Bennett Sees Defeat For Foes

Premier Bennett forecast nothing but losses for opposition parties as he campaigned Tuesday in the Peace River country for this month's provincial election. He said in Hudson's Hope the Conservatives would elect no candidates at all, the Liberals would dwindle from their current five seats, and he named three New Democrats he said would lose their seats—William Harley of Yale-Lillooet, Leo Nimsick of Kootenay and Frank Calder of Atlin.

Jack Pickersgill, one of Canada's most colorful public figures, is resigning as president of the Canadian transport commission in Ottawa effective Aug. 31. While he has been transport commission president since 1967, Mr. Pickersgill is better known for his years at the centre of countless political battles as a long-time Liberal cabinet minister. The peppery president of the transport commission, who was 67 in June, is retiring at his own request three years before the expiry of his term of office.

A member of the famed Flying Wallendas circus family, the victim of an accidental electrocution during a high wire act last Friday, was buried in Sarasota, Fla., Tuesday. But Karl Wallenda, the patriarch of the troupe, did not attend the funeral of his son-in-law because he was busy doing what he has been doing for 42 years—walking the wire. "My wife and daughter are in Florida," he said. "But people are coming here from hundreds of miles to see us. I don't want to cheat them out of that."

A former drug addict hanged himself in a cell at the Brooklyn House of Detention, becoming the ninth apparent suicide in the city prison system this year. The death prompted William Vanden Heuvel, chairman of the board of correction, a citizen watchdog panel, to announce plans for a new round of hearings into what he termed "the shocking death rate."

A journalist wounded in the barrage of shots which killed Senator Robert F. Kennedy has accepted in Los Angeles a $1,000 settlement in his civil suit against the Ambassador Hotel. Ira M. Goldstein, 23, of Encino had asked for $250,000 damages, saying that the hotel failed to provide necessary protection for Kennedy and those around him. The settlement was reached Monday. Goldstein was covering Kennedy's June 1968, California primary election victory at the hotel for Continental News Co. Sirhan B. Sirhan is serving a life term for Kennedy's slaying.

In McMinnville, Ore., Yamhill County officials filed two counts of murder today against Phillip Dyer after a sudden burst of shooting at the court house left two women dead and Dyer wounded. Gary Rueter, deputy district attorney, said Dyer, 32, of Salem, Ore., was charged with murdering his estranged wife, Barbara, 22, and her companion, Linda Tisher, 24, both of Camino, Calif. Dyer was shot in the abdomen in an exchange of shots with a deputy sheriff.

A crew member of the protest vessel Greenpeace Three is undergoing a check-up for radiation sickness in an Australian hospital, Dave McTaggart, Greenpeace skipper, said Monday in Vancouver.

A man has been charged in Nanaimo with attempted murder after a man stabbed an RCMP officer in the stomach Tuesday. Robert Stove, 21, was charged following the incident in the Vancouver Island city. Constable Patrick Latus, 22, was reported in fair condition in hospital Tuesday.

A 20-year-old Vancouver man, Robert Thacker, was in satisfactory condition in hospital Tuesday after being slashed across the throat in a downtown hotel. Police said Mr. Thacker apparently was sitting at a table with his assailant when a fight developed. He suffered a six-inch gash.

An air search along the Stewart River near Whitehorse has failed to turn up any trace of an Anchorage, Alaska, couple. David DeBore, 28, and Tety Margaret Dougherty, 24, were on a canoe trip which began May 21 in the central Yukon community of Mayo. Searchers have found a swamped 17-foot canoe tied to the river bank in the vicinity of Five Mile Rapids. The search continued Tuesday by boat.

Eight persons are dead following an escape attempt at one prison and a fire in a second, but prisoner rebellions at two other institutions have ended. The latest victim was Katherine Elliott, who died Tuesday after being shot during a abortive escape attempt Monday by her husband, Walter, at the Norfolk Prison in Boston. She apparently had smuggled two pistols to her husband, who later is thought to have killed himself and shot her while they were under siege in a prison dormitory.

Charles Ovans, general secretary of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation since 1945, has announced his resignation from the federation, effective July 31, 1973. "It's an early resignation," said Mr. Ovans in Vancouver. "But 40 years teaching and working with the federation is enough for me."

Britain argued before the International Court Tuesday at the Hague that any extension of Iceland's fishing limits would hurt the British economy. Sir Peter Rawlinson, British attorney-general, asked the court for urgent interim measures to protect the British fishing industry after Sept. 1, when, Iceland has announced, it will extend its fishing limits to 50 from 12 nautical miles.

Premier Gerald Regan of Nova Scotia said Tuesday in Halifax he expects a new approach at the 13th provincial premier's conference Thursday and Friday because of the youthfulness of the nine premiers who will attend. "We now have no one who has been premier for more than five years," he said in an interview. "It's going to be a group of nine young men."

Allan Blakeney of Saskatchewan, at 46, is the oldest of the nine premiers. The premier of British Columbia, 71-year-old W. A. C. Bennett, is unable to attend the meeting because of the election in his province Aug. 30. He will be represented by L. J. Wallace, deputy provincial secretary of British Columbia.

Fischer Inches Towards Title After A 'Grandmaster Draw'

REYKJAVIK (AP) — Bobby Fischer inched toward the world chess title with another draw in a dull ninth game with Soviet champion Boris Spassky Tuesday. The score now is 5½-3½ in the American challenger's favor and the 10th game is scheduled for Thursday.

The ninth game "might actually be considered the so-called 'grandmaster draw,' since neither player made any great change from standard play," said international grandmaster Isaac Kashdan, analysing the play for The Associated Press.

With a win counting one point and a draw half a point, Fischer as the challenger needs 12½ to take the title while Spassky must score 12 to retain it.

A maximum of 15 games remain to be played, and Fischer can lose one and still win if he draws the other 14. But Spassky must win at least two games and draw the rest to keep his crown. So far he has won only one of the first nine games in play, the first, while Fischer has taken four.

Playing first with the white pieces, Spassky opened Tuesday with his usual pawn to queen four. Fischer responded with knight to king's bishop three and the game developed into the Tarrasch variation of the queen's gambit.

The American broke the game out of the standard pattern by moving pawn to queen knight's four and forcing Spassky to withdraw his bishop. This seemed to cost the Russian the initiative.

"By the 14th move, most of the major and minor pieces had been traded off and, two moves later, everything was virtually dead even," said Kashdan.

On the 28th move the two traded pawns, and Fischer proposed a draw. Spassky shook his hand in agreement.

Egypt-Libya Merger Brews Reports Newspaper In Cairo

CAIRO (Reuters) — The newspaper Al Gomhouria published today what it called the Libyan blueprint for a merger with Egypt as the two heads of state, Anwar Sadat and Muammar Kadafi, were locked in late night talks in Benghazi.

Al Gomhouria said the Libyan plan seeks a "united Arab Republic" to be formed of the two countries by means of a plebiscite.

Its religion would be Islam, its flag that of the Federation of Arab Republics (Egypt, Libya and Syria) and its capital Cairo. The new state would be socialist, based "on the alliance of the peoples' forces," with a single parliament and cabinet.

Political leadership would be vested in a "supreme executive committee" or "leadership council," the newspaper quoted the draft as saying.

It proposed six committees be set up to study legal, constitutional, economic, military, political and technical administrative aspects of carrying out the merger.

The authoritative newspaper Al Ahran said the two delegations in Benghazi had discussed all aspects of the merger and a timetable to implement it.

President Sadat arrived in To-brook Monday for the talks with Libya's Kadafi, who wants full and immediate unity.

The discussions moved to Benghazi, one of Libya's twin capitals, Tuesday while demonstrators outside were calling for the leaders to proclaim full unity.

Such a move would link 37 million Arabs, with huge financial resources, and would give Egypt a strategic geographical position extending to the Algerian border in the west and Chad and Niger in the south.

AGENTS ARREST EACH OTHER

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Armed security agents were so numerous at Miami Beach hotels during the Democratic national convention that they were arresting each other, a state report says.

The report of the Florida department of law enforcement released Tuesday showed two armed men were arrested at the campaign headquarters of Alabama Gov. George Wallace by agents of the state protective intelligence squad and the United States Secret Service.

The two were released, a department spokesman said, when it was determined they were properly-licensed security agents.

Strike Averted At Hospitals

VANCOUVER (CP) — A threatened strike by 137 stationary engineers in 27 British Columbia hospitals was averted Tuesday, when the engineers voted to accept a two-year pact.

The agreement between the International Union of Operating Engineers and the B.C. Hospitals Association gives engineers a seven per cent pay increase this year and a seven per cent increase in 1973 on the 1972 rate.

The question of wage parity with other hospital trades will be decided by arbitration later this month. No date has been set for hearings.

Current rates for engineers range from $730 to $938 a month.

Duke Of Argyll To Visit CNE

TORONTO (CP) — The Duke of Argyll, chief of Scotland's Campbell clan, will officially open the three-week-long 97th annual Canadian National Exhibition Aug. 17.

In the evening he will open the four-day Scottish World Festival Tattoo at the CNE's Grandstand. The show will feature thousands of pipers and dancers from all over the world.

Shoreline Survey Shows Big Things Happening

'Avast, ye land-lubbers,' tis Captain Vancouver himself, Harvey Rourke, manning the spyglass to look over the Kelowna shoreline with Mayor Hilbert Roth who is no doubt pinpointing the best spot for the good captain to land during Regatta. At right, His Worship is surrounded by Lady of the Lake beauty prior to regular city council meeting Monday. Flanking the mayor are Birgit Moeller, left, and princess-elect Donna Hamilton,

Muir. Missing from photograph is Virginia Slobodian. The girls were presented with gifts from city council by Mayor Roth and also signed the city guest book. Director of royalty, Mrs. Norman Hilborn, accompanied the royal contingent. Decked out in the colorful dress of the period, Captain Vancouver is just one of many side-line features of the 66th annual Regatta which officially opened today at noon with a special ceremony near the city park entrance. The water classic unofficially began this morning with the 7:30 a.m. Kiwanis pancake breakfast offered today to Saturday till noon. The good captain will be seen during the Regatta parade today "chap-eroning" the Lady of the Lake candidates atop the Jaycee float. Highlight of the Regatta kick-off day, of course, will be the crowning of Lady of the Lake elect, Lindsay Ritchie, by current Lady of the Lake, Wendy Nichols, with similar ceremonies performed with princess-elect, Donna Hamilton by current princess, Trudy Walker.—(Courier Photos)

Diverse Summer Program Continues After Regatta

The Opportunities for Youth Summer Arts, Crafts, Music and Theatre program currently being presented at City Park is off for Regatta week but will continue commencing Aug. 7.

Susan Morrison, one of the co-ordinators of the program, said today her group is now taking a limited number of registrants for programs in batik, leather crafts, silk screening and guitar. The applications for the courses are open to anyone over the age of 12 and can be submitted to Susan at 760 Raymer Road in Kelowna.

The course in batik will start Aug. 7 and will be held every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday between 10:30 in the morning to 1:30 in the afternoon. Batik, for those unfamiliar with the art, is a technique for making imprints on fabric. The art of batik originated in Japan thousands of years ago and only recently has become popular as an inexpensive and attractive means to decorate fabric.

The group has set Aug. 9 as the date to begin leather craft classes which will give registrants in the course an opportunity to learn a craft which could lead to making leather garments, such as pants, vests, belts, skirts or purses.

The possibilities of such a course is unlimited. These classes will be held on Thursdays and Fridays in the afternoon from 1:30 to 4:00.

One of the most interesting programs offered by the diverse group is silk-screening. The uses of this art run from making your own posters to printing your own image on a T-shirt. Tuesday afternoon and evening has been set aside for the instruction in silk-screening.

A daily class will be held for those persons who are interested in learning guitar. The course will include lessons for beginners in folk guitar as well as in strumming and accompaniment. The classes for guitar are from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. every day.

Miss Morrison said anyone wishing more information regarding registration and details of the courses are more than welcome to contact her at home on Raymer Road.

MORE THAN 32,000

Number Of Eligible Voters Almost Double In The Riding

Government agent Bert Manson said today the number of voters has almost doubled in six years in the South Okanagan Electoral District.

In 1966 there were 16,829 voters registered, in 1969, 24,801 and presently there are "more than 32,000" registered in the district, he said.

The deadline for registering was Tuesday.

Mr. Manson said the door-to-door enumeration held in early June, and the registration of office opened for a week, has given most persons the opportunity to register or check to see if they are registered.

For other electoral districts, an increase in prospective voters is also noted. In the North Okanagan in 1966 there were 10,744 registered, while in 1969 15,041 persons registered, and there are about 20,000 registered now.

Boundary-Similkameen had 16,170 registered in 1966, with 21,702 registered in 1969, and about 25,000 registered now.

Advance polls will be held August 24, 25 and 26 from 1 to 9 p.m., he said. The locations will be announced later.

SPCA SPONSOR FOR MUTT SHOW

It hasn't been easy, but Regatta has finally found a sponsor for the Children's Mutt show listed on the Regatta program, for Thursday at 10:30 a.m.

The SPCA will sponsor the fun event, scheduled to be held in the arena parking lot. Although the number of participants and dog entries are not known, participants should be prepared for some wacky categories.

One category will be "the dog with the longest nose," while another includes races. Prizes, including a "panda bear," will be awarded.

SEEN and HEARD

Local Rotary district governor, H. D. (Dick) Pritchard of Penticton, will be guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Kelowna Capri East Rotary Club Thursday. He will confer with president, Lou Rampone on the club's plans for service activities and offer suggestions on administrative matters.

Mr. and Mrs. William Yendall, 1393 Flemish St., came to the rescue of two Calgary women whose sailboat capsized in choppy Okanagan Lake waters Wednesday about 2:30 p.m. Even though they were wearing life jackets the girls were fortunate the Kelowna couple were able to avert what could have been a serious or fatal situation.

Public Works Schedule Announced By The City

City engineering director Nelson Deck has prepared a proposed construction schedule for this year's various public works projects.

It shows both starting and completion dates, but Mr. Deck emphasizes, "they are of course only target dates we are hoping to meet."

The blacktopping job now underway on Pandosy Street will be embellished by curbs and gutters, a project expected to start August 14 and finish Sept. 8. Curbs and gutters will also be installed along Bay Avenue during the same period.

In the utilities department, storm and sanitary sewers are to be constructed on Parkinson Way and along Spall Street by August 18.

Water mains will be laid along Recreation Avenue by Aug. 4, along Lake Avenue between Aug. 7 and 11; Elliott Avenue between Aug. 16 and 25; Copeland Place between Aug. 28 and Sept. 1; Royal Avenue between Sept. 5 and 22; Bay Avenue between Sept. 25 and Oct. 4; Burn Avenue between Oct. 5 and 15 and on Roanoke Avenue, from Ellis Street to Guy Street by the end of the year.

Work on roads and lanes in the city has already begun and is expected to be completed by the middle of October. Highway 9 should be completed by Aug. 18, while work is scheduled to begin on Parkinson Way, from Spall Street to the new community centre on Aug. 14 and be completed by Aug. 25.

Activity on Spall Street from Harvey Avenue to Parkinson Way should be underway between Aug. 21 and Sept. 1; on the lane north of Glenmore School between Aug. 21 and Sept. 1; on the lane east of Richter Street at KLO Road between Aug. 28 and Sept. 1; and on the intersection of Park Avenue and Pandosy Street between Sept. 25 and 29.

Installation of culverts and the base and paving of Birch Road from Sutherland to Harvey Avenues will be done between Sept. 5 and Oct. 6. Base and paving on Pandosy between Harvey and Lake Avenues will be completed between Sept. 11 and Oct. 20.

Construction of and improvements to sidewalks will be made along Walrod Street between Aug. 7 and 10; on Strathcona Avenue between Aug. 2 and 4; on Water Street between Aug. 11 and 18; on Rosemead Avenue between Aug. 28 and Sept. 1; on Ellis Street between Aug. 28 and Sept. 1; on Water Street in front of City Hall between Sept. 11 and 15 and in front of the senior citizens' activity centre between Sept. 11 and 15; along Pacific Avenue between Sept. 18 and 22 and at three areas along Glenmore Street between Sept. 25 and Oct. 5.

Curbs will be constructed at the arena parking lot between Sept. 11 and 15 and at the Chapman parking lot between Sept. 18 and 20.

Pioneer Grower Harry Ward Funeral Arrangements Made

Funeral service will be held from Day's Chapel of Remembrance, Thursday at 1:30 p.m. for well known pioneer orchardist Harry George Ward of RR 3 Kelowna, who died Tuesday after a lengthy illness.

Mr. Ward was born in Montreal in 1907 and in 1911 arrived with his family aboard the SS Okanagan sternwheeler, settling in the Glenmore area.

He was educated in Kelowna and pioneered an orchard in the Glenmore area. He worked in the original Kelowna brick yard, and later was instrumental in the development of Apex Orchards which grew into a packing-shipping facility in the tree fruit industry.

With the inception of central selling through B.C. Tree Fruits, the family shipping facility was disbanded.

The orchards, as Apex Orchards Ltd., developed into one of the most successful orchard enterprises in the Valley.

Mr. Ward was active in community affairs, serving on the East Kelowna Hall Board for many years and contributed to the development of the South East Kelowna Irrigation District as an active member of the board.

He was also active in sports, interested in fishing and conservation.

Mr. Ward is survived by his wife, Grace; one daughter, Ellen; one brother, Arthur; four sisters, Mrs. Bert (Phyllis) Hall, Kaledon; Mrs. Frank (Doris) Turton, Kelowna; Mrs. David (Connie) Garbutt, Maple Bay, Vancouver Island; and Edith Ward of Vancouver.

Rev. C. E. Reeves will officiate, with cremation to follow.

Top Production Appointment For Local Distillery Official

F. D. LEEDER
... heading east

Francis D. Leeder, production manager of Hiram Walker distillery at Winfield since the plant's construction in 1969, has been appointed general manager of the firm's production and engineering operations in Canada at Walkerville, Ont., headquarters.

Mr. Leeder is succeeded by Michael Sekels, who has been with the company since 1949, serving with Walkerville's engineering, quality control and finished goods operations there. Most recently, he was superintendent of blending and maturing facilities.

Married and the father of five children, Mr. Sekels has a bachelor of engineering degree from the Detroit Institute of Technology.

Born in Viking, Alta., Mr. Leeder has been with the company since 1946, serving in the departments of manufacturing, cereal products, finished goods, blending, maturing and engineering. He holds a BA, BSc and an MBA, and attended St. Joseph's High School, Edmonton, and universities at Alberta, Windsor and Michigan, U.S.

He was an ROTC cadet at the University of Alberta.

IN COURT

Local 1370 of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners appeared in Kelowna court today, charged with failing to notify members of a government back to work order and with counselling members to strike. The case was remanded to Aug. 9 because the union lawyer, Vancouver alderman, Harry Rankin, is still tied up with the Quilt Inquest in Kamloops.

Charles Dunne of Kelowna pleaded not guilty in provincial court to possession of stolen property with a value exceeding $50. The case was remanded to Aug. 16 to set a trial date.

John Eugene Taylor of Kelowna, charged with rape, was remanded for plea to Aug. 23.

Election No Excuse Not To Attend Meet

Provincial Progressive Conservative leader Derril Warren said in Kelowna today if he were Premier of British Columbia he would be attending the Provincial Premiers' conference in Halifax this week, "election or no election."

Stopping in Kelowna on a province-wide campaign tour, the Tory leader said, "the premiers' conferences are so critical to Canada and the provinces there is no way I would not attend personally, if I were premier."

Mr. Warren was criticizing Premier Bennett's decision to send an executive assistant to the Halifax conference instead of going himself.

The Conservative leader said Mr. Bennett's decision to send a non-elected official to the conference, was an "insult to the people of British Columbia."

At a short press conference, Mr. Warren reiterated the party's policy concerning senior citizens and how the Conservatives planned to remedy the situation.

He said his party would contact heads of unions, church officials, service clubs and ladies groups and ask them to help set up what he termed senior citizens assistance centres. These centres he said, would centralize special services to senior citizens.

"It is important that we remind ourselves of the debt which we owe to our senior citizens," he said.

Graveside service will be at Kelowna cemetery Thursday at 11 a.m. for Walter Dolman, 60, of 545 Roanoke Ave., who died in Kelowna General Hospital, Tuesday.

Mr. Dolman is survived by his wife, Hilda; one daughter, Mrs. Garth Gibson; two sons, Allan and Donald, all of Kelowna; four brothers and six grandchildren.

Rev. C. E. Reeves will officiate.

date Jim Doak who will oppose the premier in the provincial election, the young Conservative leader attacked the provincial policy on environmental control and said a PC government would set up a special tax levy for polluting industries which would act as a deterrent as well as a source of provincial revenue.

"The revenue, which we hope will decrease as industries clean up, will go to municipalities in the province for sewage disposal and pollution control projects," he said.

In introducing Mr. Warren at the press conference, PC candidate, Mr. Doak outlined some of the problems he was pressing for in the South Okanagan riding. He said the province needed an Auditor General to inspect government spending especially when he said the government had a miscellaneous fund of $184 million.

He also said he would fight to have a provincial Ombudsman to look after the problems of the common people who get tied up in government red tape. Mr. Doak before declaring his intention to seek the seat for the conservatives provincially was a national vice-president of the Progressive Conservative Party.

Driver Flees Accident

RCMP in Kelowna are looking for a man who was involved in a two-car accident this morning which sent two people to hospital. Police said the man got out of his car and fled on foot after the accident occurred.

The two persons who were injured in the accident were Janice August and Penny Skrove, both of Winfield. The two were treated and released from Kelowna General Hospital.

The accident occurred on Wallace Road early today and the driver of the vehicle in which the two injured girls were passengers was Henry Wostrowski of Kelowna. Damage was estimated by police in excess of $500.

City Hall Decisions

Aldermen have decided the old Cameron property barn, on Richter Street, will be demolished. The city's recreation advisory committee has asked council to consider turning the building into a place for children to play, providing it was structurally sound. However, on the advice of building inspector William Conn, it was decided to tear the barn down.

Final reading was given a bylaw to authorize the borrowing of an additional $150,000 for construction of the Brent's Creek trade waste treatment plant. Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation has agreed to the financing arrangements for the project and will lend the city $400,000. The remainder to be borrowed will come from the provincial Municipal Financing Authority.

... Sun

Thursday's forecast of mostly sunbathing should make it convenient for residents taking in the Regatta. Highs will be 85 to 90 degrees. High and low in the city Tuesday was 80 and 60 degrees with a trace of precipitation, compared to 80 and 52 degrees with no precipitation recorded for the same day at the airport. Overnight lows today will be 50 to 60 degrees,

This Is Regatta Week And Time To Have A Ball

The 66th edition of the Kelowna Regatta gets underway today with all the pomp and ceremony befitting Kelowna's most important event of the year.

It is a far cry from Regattas of years ago in that it is much more commercialized in keeping with the desires of today's tourists. With professional shows, synchronized swimming, special championship events and every year more and more added attractions.

Every year the attendance during Regatta week grows and this year more than 60,000 people are expected to attend or take part in events in the park or on the water.

And every year the job of planning and putting on a successful Regatta is taking more time, manpower and organization. Regatta director general E. McKee and his aides have done a terrific job but it has been hard work with long hours. One wonders if the people of Kelowna have any idea of the amount of work and planning it takes to put on a Regatta?

The new concept is plan a year ahead for Regatta and the present committee is doing just that for 1973. It could be the answer to making the job a little easier with very little last minute holdups.

Deciding on the night shows is a big decision. They must feel out opinions and try to get shows that please everyone. This year they have music for young and old with good comedy acts. In all the committee has made a good selection.

The city is bursting with visiting dignitaries that come every year for Canada's greatest Regatta. Its fame is known across the country and in many U.S. states.

Although it costs more every year to put on a Regatta there is more money spent by tourists in our stores, shops, hotels and motels. The idea this year, according to a Regatta spokesman, is to make money and the only way to make money is spend money.

The event gives people in the district an opportunity to attend the many functions and meet tourists. The people themselves do a great job of selling the Regatta by attending functions or just talking to people.

It is our Regatta and it is up to us to make it a success by promoting it every way possible.

This is a fun week for young and old and like the man says, "take off your shoes and have a ball."

'Permanent' Speaker

(Victoria Colonist)

On the last day before the House of Commons adjourned for the summer, John Diefenbaker led off a series of tributes to the Speaker, Lucien Lamoureux, with glowing words:

"You have discharged your duties with consummate ability. You have combined authority with compassion. The degree of impartiality you have displayed in the discharge of your duties has been such that you will always be looked back on by the present and future generations in this House as one who, in his person, epitomized the finest traditions of the Speakership.

Mr. Diefenbaker's praise was accompanied by an expression of suspicion that Canada's 28th Parliament might not meet again. And if this is so, if an election is called before the end of September, the indication is that Mr. Lamoureux will not be back, either as Speaker or as a member of Parliament. He has talked of retiring when this Parliament ends.

The loss of this most able Speaker, so recognized by all parties in the House, would be at least partly the result of the system of choosing the presiding officer of the Commons which precludes him from serving his constituents as well as he would like.

The Speaker, chosen from among the members at the opening of a new parliament, is then expected to be completely unpartisan and impartial and beyond any form of politicking. Besides, his duties do not leave him much time for constituency work. His riding, in effect must be content to have the honor of sending the Speaker to the House of Commons, and in this particular case, the pride of knowing that Mr. Lamoureux has done the job extremely well.

For this reason, there have been suggestions that the way be opened for the election of a "permanent" Speaker—at this time Mr. Lamoureux—who would represent no real constituency but only, as it were, the members of Parliament themselves. The New Democratic Party's expert on parliamentary matters, Stanley Knowles, has for instance proposed that a nominal constituency should be created on Parliament Hill, with the Speaker nominated as the sole candidate.

There may still be time to hold on to Mr. Lamoureux's services on this basis. NDP leader David Lewis paying tribute to the Speaker in his turn said that some MPs "had hoped that the admiration in which you have been held as Speaker would have persuaded everybody in the House to create a situation whereby you could continue as Speaker without having to fight elections on a partisan basis. I regret that this has not been done. I hope it may still be done, whether or not this is the last day of Parliament."

So, with good reason, will many other Canadians.

Day Care Plan Grows

Once considered the self-indulgence of neglectful parents, or a politically suspect undermining of the family unit, organized care for pre-school children and after-school care for pre-puberty school children has suddenly picked up considerable prestige, writes Lois Neely in the July Reader's Digest. The Royal Commission on the Status of Women has recommended the establishment of a network of centers to provide day care for approximately 450,000 children across Canada. Provincial governments are introducing courses to train day care personnel and are laying down operating regulations. And this year, the federal government has allowed working mothers to claim child-care costs up to $500 per child (maximum $2,000 per family) as a tax-deductible expense.

During the past 10 years some one million women have entered the labor force so that today three million women are working in Canada. Of these, one in five is a working mother with children 13 years old or under.

According to the National Study of Day Care conducted by the Canada Council on Social Development, "Day care must be seen as not limited to support for the working mothers but as an opportunity for all children to benefit from an environment that will enhance their development." Ideally, the mother creates the preconditioning for the development of human intelligence, the foundation upon which the schools build. But not all mothers have the time to do this properly, and even those who do have time often need some outside help.

Tourist Guide Popular Job

By FARMER TISSINGTON

Ottawa Bureau of the Kelowna Courier

OTTAWA — Among the most popular summer jobs for Canadian university students is to become one of the guides who conduct visitors through centre block of Parliament.

About 44 applications were received for the positions this year but only 17 guides are selected for the jobs, which started May 15 and end after

Labor Day. The guides are divided into two shifts but all are on hand for the rush hours when the greatest number of visitors arrive for the tours. This occurs about 10:30 a.m. each morning, following the changing of the guard ceremony on the front lawn, and lasts well into the afternoon.

The guides are given a training course during which they learn facts and figures about the features in the centre block, such as the Commons and Senate chambers and the parliamentary library, and in a short time they have memorized short descriptive statements.

They are asked some amusing and unusual questions. Some people want to know what the centre block weighs but unfortunately, no one has yet got around to putting it on a scale.

Many of the unusual questions come from the United States visitors, some of whom still think the Queen is the active head of government and that Canada is still a colony and cannot pass any legislation without the consent of Great Britain.

Between 4,000 and 5,000 people visit the centre block each day and each guide conducts about eight separate groups during a shift. One reason why the job is sought-after is the $3 an hour it pays—good money by summer youth-employment standards.

MAKES FINAL SELECTION

One difficulty is that a guide is only allowed to work at the job for one season and a new group of students will be hired for next year. Best method of application is through the local member of Parliament but the Speaker of the Commons has the final say in selecting the small, fortunate group of young men and women.

A few English-language purists are disturbed about the trend, both within and outside government, to put rather stark labels on everything. It all started around the time that Trans-Canada Airlines became Air Canada, partly because the publicly-owned airline was doing a lot of international flying. Then we have had Statistics Canada replacing the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, partly because the word Dominion upsets some people.

Recently, we have been inundated with stories about Hockey Canada and Team Canada. It caused one observer to wonder, when he listens to his radio portable about a discussion of Team Canada and the possibilities of Hull Bobby playing, if Team Canada will fly to Russia by Air Canada after reservations have been made by Bell Canada. The whole trend sends shivers up the backs of the purists who are concerned about what is happening to our language English.

On a more serious note, those who have been worried about the number of university and college teachers who have been appointed to Canadian posts from outside the country, are now given a slight ray of hope. Our old friend, Statistics Canada, reports that in the 1971-72 year, 56 per cent of all teachers appointed to full-time jobs in Canadian universities were Canadian citizens. This compares with 55 per cent a year earlier. Of the balance, teachers from the United States account for less than half or 20 per cent, of the teachers from other countries.

World Boom In Offshore Oil Wells Helps Fill Halifax Shipyard Books

HALIFAX (CP) — A world-wide boom in the construction of offshore oil drilling rigs is helping to fill the order books at Halifax Shipyards, a division of Hawker Siddeley Canada Ltd.

Total investment in new rigs is expected to increase to $661 million in 1973 from $126 million in 1969. Of the 53 rigs now under construction in various countries, two are being built here.

The yard recently was awarded a contract worth some $18 million from Southeastern Commonwealth Drilling Ltd. of Dallas, Tex., to build a rig named Sedco 704. This rig will be the fifth for Southeastern, which awarded the contract when Lexington Shipbuilding Co. of Orange, Tex., decided it could not fill the order. Sedco 704 is being built now and completion is scheduled for 1973.

Ernest Alderton, general manager of Halifax Shipyards, is delighted with the new business. He expects to finish Sedco 704 in March, 1974 and clear a fair profit.

STARTED BADLY
The yard's first two rigs ran up losses of $4 million. Mr. Alderton took on the job of general manager at the critical stage.

"When I came here in March, 1970 we were just delivering Sedco II and Sedco I was under way," he says.

Dawson City Notices A First At Diamond Tooth Gertie's

DAWSON CITY, Y.T. (CP)

— Like a ghostly remnant of the Klondike Gold Rush, the tinkle of a honky-tonk piano drifts from Diamond Tooth Gertie's Gambling Hall, which this summer became the first licensed gaming house in 70 years in a city built on poker chips and pokes of gold dust.

Diamond Tooth Gertie's is a government-approved experiment in legalized gambling unprecedented in Canada. And the territorial government figures the community-run establishment is the only full-scale gaming house operating legally north of Nevada.

James Smith, the Yukon's reform-minded territorial commissioner, says legalized gambling could prove to be the catalyst for the territory's needs to move into the big league of the tourist industry.

He sees Diamond Tooth Gertie's as a "historical backdrop" for Dawson's fantastic heritage from the Klondike Gold Rush of 75 years ago.

"If there is any place in the territory where an experiment in legalized gambling should be conducted, that place is Dawson City," said Commissioner Smith.

"What the hell—a tourist doesn't come all the way to the Yukon to sit in a motel room and watch TV."

NAMED AFTER SALOON

Dawson's historical credentials as a gambling mecca are impeccable. And there really was a Diamond Tooth Gertie—a saloon siren named Gertie Lovejoy whose claim to fame was a glittering diamond jammed between her two front teeth.

During 1898 and 1899 Gertie was one of the main attractions on Dawson's famed Front Street, which included four of the most fantastic blocks in North America.

Frontage sold for $50,000 a foot. Dozens of saloons, sin bins, gambling halls and hotels jostled for elbow room and the street jumbled 24 hours a day with high-rolling craps shooters, dusty miners, tin horns and Eldorado Kings looking for action.

Those who staked out a chunk of Front Street generally struck far more pay dirt than the thousands of wild-eyed sourdoughs and would-be Eldorado Kings who stamped up the Trail of '98 to stake claims on Bonanza, Quartz, Hunker, Goldbottom and Dominion Creeks in the Klondike goldfields.

Front Street expired in 1908, throttled by the ebb of the gold rush and blue laws. With it died most of Dawson City, now a stark remnant of 600 living amid the gingerbread and rococo ruins of what was once the largest—and certainly the most elegant—city north of San Francisco.

GAME PROFITS HELP

The revival was initiated by the Klondike Visitors Association, which now operates a Diamond Tooth Gertie's on a non-profit basis—under tight government supervision. The KVA uses its profits to purchase and renovate other buildings in town of historical interest and for development of other tourist programs and attractions in Dawson.

The KVA, a group of 30 community leaders and businessmen, has been trying to get into the gambling business since the early 1960s.

In granting the KVA its licence, the territorial government limited games at Diamond Tooth Gertie's to blackjack, bingo and wheel games. Amendments to the Criminal Code two years ago opened the door to creation of Canada's first casino since before the First World War.

To say nothing of the letter of the law, Diamond Tooth Gertie's operates as a private club. All patrons buy a $2 membership card during their first visit and the card is good for the balance of the season.

To date, the KVA has invested more than $30,000 in converting the Arctic Brotherhood Hall into a gold-rush era gambling saloon.

WAS TOUGH CHORE

Setting up a modern casino operation in the wilds of the Canadian North was no easy chore.

"The territorial government was really good to us," said Joe Castellan, a KVA director and one of the brains behind the blackjack setup. "The government realized we didn't know too much about gambling so it sent up some experts to teach us the ropes."

SUBSIDY NEEDED

But he is concerned about the future of the federal government's shipbuilding temporary assistance program for export contracts which ends June 30, though Mr. Alderton says indications are it will continue for another nine months.

"The subsidy is 15.5 per cent of the cost of construction of any vessels and this is required to make us competitive with U.S. shipbuilding yards," he says.

The growing business at Halifax Shipyards has given a shot in the arm to the whole Nova Scotia economy since it means $14 million a year in subcontracting and pay cheques.

"We try to buy in the Maritime," Mr. Alderton says. "Trenton Works in Trenton, N.S., another division of Hawker Siddeley, supplies cushions and steel tubes for the rigs, and a small firm near New Glasgow supplies steel furniture and mattresses for them. About 20 per cent of the steel used comes from Nova Scotia."

A $3 million expansion program is being carried out in the yard, increasing the number of heavy-duty cranes required in oil rig construction and improving heating.

Two officials of the Nevada state gambling commission arrived in Whitehorse during the winter for talks with government officials and KVA leaders. They recommended that the association avail itself of the services of a professional in the field.

The government found a professional pit boss in a Reno, Nev. club.

"The pit boss showed our people how to handle money, chips and cards and showed us accounting methods used in the Nevada clubs. We're using it all. The one thing we learned was not to trust anybody—customers, dealers or cashiers," said Mr. Castellan.

MUST BUY CHIPS

Anyone wishing to play the tables has to buy chips, available in denominations of up to $5.

Usually, the tourists have to fight their way to the tables through crowds of wild and woolly Dawsonites. The whole town goes on a tear in summer after eight months of ferocious winter.

"We were really amazed by the number of people from town who play the tables," said Mr. Castellan. "In fact, there's usually more of them playing blackjack than there are tourists—the visitors come in to watch."

Club manager Dave Gould—by day a mild-mannered chartered accountant, by night a saloon boss decked out in black bowler with rhinestone garter belts on both arms—said the gambling hall nets about 30 per cent of the bets as profit.

"With a $5 limit, we're not too worried about a professional rolling in here and trying to break the bank. You'd have to work hard all night to leave here with $100 in winnings."

SOME WAY TO GO

Diamond Tooth Gertie's still has some distance to go to get into the same league as its ancestors on Front Street.

The Yukon's most famous gambler—Silent Sam Bonniwell—once lost $72,000 in cash and the title to his Bank Saloon and Gambling House on the turn of a single card. Six hours later he won it all back, along with the cash, and cleaned out his opponent to boot.

That was in the winter of 1898. A few months later Silent Sam was a participant in a game and Dawson was the site of what many historians believe to have been the biggest single poker pot in Canadian history.

He was playing Goldie Golden, a rival saloon keeper, a hand of five-card stud poker in which the pot shot up to $150,000 in cash and gold dust. Goldie threw in $75,000 on the strength of four queens.

Sam called him, rolled four kings, scooped up the pot and walked out without saying a word.

CANADA'S STORY

Ex-Buffero Hunters Then Raised Cattle

By BOB BOWMAN

When the North West Mounted Police made their famous trek from Manitoba to Alberta in 1874, the buffalo were the most numerous large animal on earth. Sometimes it would take three days for a single herd to pass a certain point. Ten years later the buffalo were almost extinct.

One of the men who sized up the situation was Reverend John McDougall who had a mission at Morley, near Calgary. McDougall reasoned that if the prairies could support thousands of buffalo, then they should be able to support herds of cattle. He encouraged his brother and friends to import cattle from the U.S.A.

The business was growing as early as 1878 when the Council of the North-West Territories, meeting at Battleford, approved the first regulations for the branding of cattle. Every cattleman had to register his brand at the Recording Office and designate the part of the animals' bodies where the mark would be placed.

The penalty for stealing cattle was three times the value of the animals for a first offence. Second-time offenders were roughly hauled.

One of the first cattle grounds was near the first NWMP post at Fort Macleod where there was good grass. Then H. M. Cochrane of Compton, Quebec, established a ranch west of Calgary in 1881 and brought in 3,000 head of cattle from Montana. His foreman was Colonel James Walker who had retired from the NWMP. When World War I began in 1914, Colonel Walker went overseas as a veterinary expert. General Sir Arthur Currie said: "He was a man who broke out every 50 years and went to war."

Later an effort was made to establish Cochrane cattle near Waterton Lakes area, but they were caught in heavy snow and nearly starved to death. Cowboys from Macleod rescued many of them by obtaining 500 Indian horses and used them to beat a path in the snow from Waterton to Calgary.

OTHER EVENTS OF AUG. 2: 1786—James Strange claimed Vancouver Island for Britain.

1818—Plague of locusts destroyed Selkirk settlers crops at Red River.

1862—Victoria B.C. was incorporated.

1871—Indians treaties were completed at Fort Garry and Lake Manitoba.

1878—Special commission decided Ontario - Manitoba border.

1882—Regina became capital of North-West Territories.

1910—Grand Trunk Railway strike ended with workers getting 15 per cent increase.

1918—There was a general strike across Canada.

1921—Lord Byng became Governor General.

A Fizz and Sizzle party hosted by the Regatta Agricultural Fair Committee at the lovely Kelowna home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Locke started Regatta week off with food, fun and fellowship. Regatta directors and their spouses, news media and others who had assisted the committee in preparing for the competitions, displays and demonstrations at the Fair tent during Regatta week were among the invited guests who enjoyed the Biggest hot dogs barbequed by Don Rampone and fun and games in the swimming pool. Mr. and Mrs. Dick Gunoff celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary during the evening and everyone 'supped' their fill of the wonderful scenic sight of the Okanagan Lake bridge as seen from the hilltop grounds. Here some of the committee in

HITHER and YON

A tradition of more than 30 years during the annual International Regatta in Kelowna has been the luncheons hosted by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. This year the luncheons again started the week off with good fellowship graciously hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Biden, Vancouver, manager of freight sales and Mr. and Mrs. Vern Rose, Kelowna, district manager of marketing and sales.

Some 200 residents of Kelowna and area were among the guests who attended four luncheons, from 12 noon to 2 p.m. and 5 to 7 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday. The happy events were held aboard the special dining cars, Shaughnessy and Car No. 4.

Heading the Kelowna guest list on Monday were Mayor Hilbert Roth and Mrs. Roth and all the members of city council and their spouses.

Among out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Robinson, supervisor of customer service centre at Revelstoke; Jack Pelley, assistant superintendent for CP Rail, Penticton and Mrs. Pelley; Roy Becker, mobile representative for the Okanagan and Mrs. Becker, Rutland.

Recent Kelowna visitors were Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell of Edmonton, who visited with Mr. and Mrs. Ken Taylor and family of Bernard Avenue. Mr. Mitchell is a psychologist with the Alberta Alcohol and Drug Foundation. During their visit the two families also called on Mr. and Mrs. Larry Taylor at Casa Loma to see their new home.

Holiday guests with Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Anderson of Abbotsford were their daughters and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wally Lightbown and four children from Vancouver and Dr. and Mrs. Finnigan and four children from Lethbridge, Alta.

Kelowna's royalty will be busy this week. Along with hosting duties, entertaining out-of-town royalty, taking part in the Regatta parade and other events, attending coffee parties, a number of them will be taking part in fashion shows.

Lady of the Lake elect, Lindsay Ritchie and her Princess, Donna Mae Hamilton, will model fashions from Eve's at the Regatta coffee party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Moss and Princess Trudey Walker will be one of the models taking part in a fashion show in the downtown Bernard Avenue mall on Thursday at 4 p.m. Other young ladies taking part in this show which will feature fashions from a boutique are Pat Van Hullebush, Nancy Sullivan, Debbie Nardl of Vernon and Cathy Van Hullebush. Commentator is Mrs. Diane Schjodt.

Mr. and Mrs. John Babee and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Yakemachuk of Edmonton, were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Fry, Poplar Point, for five days. The men folk enjoyed a few days of successful fishing for Kokanee in the Okanagan with Alex Fry, while the women, Helen Babee, sister of Mrs. Fry, and Dora Yakemachuk, sister-in-law, experienced cherry picking for the first time.

Other Edmonton guests during the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Ostafchuk and son Perry, who celebrated his 11th birthday at a beach party given by aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Fry.

Visitors this week with Mr. and Mrs. William Guest of Pinerest Lane are the latter's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Anderson of Regina, Sask., who stopped off to pick up their daughter Mary and her friend Penny Paul, who have enjoyed a three-week holiday here with Mary's aunt and uncle. They will continue to the coast.

EASY DOES IT

By WIN PACKER

If you are taking off on holidays and have to leave cherished plants unattended you can create individual greenhouses that will keep your plants from drying out even though you are away for several weeks. Water each plant thoroughly and cover completely with a plastic bag, wrapping it under the pot so it is airtight. The plant will create its own moisture and will thrive while you are away.

An alternate solution to the watering problem is a strip of soft cloth to act as a wick, one end pushed into the soil and the other in a pail of water set slightly higher than the plant. A whole group of plants may be placed around the pail with separate wicks extending to each from the one water source.

Enjoy garden-fresh B.C. CORN right now!

There isn't a sweeter vegetable treat than corn-on-the-cob . . . and right now, our own fine quality B.C. corn is at the peak of freshness and flavor. Garden-fresh corn makes a tasty treat for the whole family—and it's so easy to prepare: you simply boil, then serve with salt and butter. This is also the season for other nutritious B.C.-grown vegetables, including carrots and several varieties of cabbage. To enhance the appeal of these fine foods, we've prepared a new collection of recipes. It's yours free by writing:

CHOOSING THE COLOR OF YOUR CARPET

If you are planning to buy a carpet, Consumers' Association of Canada advises to avoid gold as a solid color if possible. Because gold cut pile shows foot tracks, litter, dust and fuzz, it requires much more care. From a housekeeping standpoint, a light beige tweed is the best color.

AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE

In a brief to the Royal Commission on Automobile Insurance, the Halifax branch of Consumers' Association of Canada has urged the insurance industry to advise the public which automobiles are the safest to drive and the easiest to repair at the lowest cost, with insurance premiums based accordingly. Car manufacturers could then be induced to design vehicles with insurance appeal.

ANN LANDERS

Data On 'Males' Not Scientific

Dear Ann Landers: Regarding the letter from the student who wrote to ask about the possibility of a father nursing his children in case of emergency or extreme crisis, your authority, Dr. Rodney Jamieson, a Chicago physician, said, "No way—unless the father held the bottle."

I am enclosing an article from the Bulletin of the New York Academy of Medicine that refutes your consultant's statement. It reads, in part: "It is not a very uncommon circumstance to find both among human-kind and animals, males whose breasts contain milk. . . . Among the lower orders of people in Russia, milk in the breasts of men is much more frequent than among the more southern nations; and the Russians have never been deemed weak or effeminate."—Mrs. J. S. (Medical Librarian, Evansville, Indiana)

Dear Mrs. S.: Thank you for sending on the material from the New York Academy of Medicine. I am now in receipt of two dozen reprints. I checked with my medical consultants in Boston, New York and Washington and they all support Dr. Jamieson of Chicago who made the initial statement. I am told that the literature you sent is not scientific documentation. A true male does not have the ability to breast-feed a child. In the rare instances where male lactation was reported, the male was probably a hermaphrodite—which means a person with both male and female physical characteristics.

Dear Ann Landers: Whenever I bring a friend to the house, my mother or my sister immediately monopolize the conversation, rattling on and on about the family history, our distinguished ancestors, bright things the grandchildren say, etc. I could just die!

My friends are bored to death, but they wish to be polite so they feign interest. Changing the subject does not help. Mom and Sis are incredibly skilful at getting back to the tiresome old topics. Suggest something in g, please.—Lincoln Embarrassment

Dear Lin: You do not say how old you are or why your mother and sister are provided with an opportunity to bore your guests for what sounds like long periods of time.

Of course you must introduce your visitors to your family, but surely you are smart enough not to set yourself up for an evening of punishment. If you are entertaining at home, ask your mother and sister in advance if they would please give you and your visitor some privacy after ten minutes. If they are unwilling, take your guest to a coffee shop or for a long walk.

Dear Ann Landers: I was interested in the remark that you never put your pretty things out of your daughter's reach when she was a child. You said you taught her not to touch them and that she never broke anything. Then you said she taught her children to be the same way.

You didn't explain how you did it, but I'll bet you used the same approach as my mother. She would show me a pretty figurine, for example, and say, "This belonged to your grandmother. Isn't it lovely? Please be careful with it because it will be yours someday." She would put my hand on it so I could feel how smooth and lovely it was and then she would hold it up to the light and she treated it with such respect I understood that it was precious.

Your column is so sensible that when I read it I am reminded of my own mother who was very much like you. Thanks for the memories.—Also From Iowa

Dear Iowa: And thank you for a heart-warming letter.

Dear Ann Landers: What can I say to a sister who weighs 170 pounds (she's five feet, four inches), eats like the Russians are in Newark, and says: "My husband likes me this way." I'd like a good down-to-earth answer in the paper.—Betty

Dear Betty: Did she ask you to say something? She didn't ask me, so I'm keeping quiet. You can be sure your sister is unhappy with herself and her remarks are defensive. Be charitable and keep quiet.

Community Resource Centre Featuring 'Honey Of An Idea'

A honey of an idea is awaiting kitchen experts on Aug. 8 in the second of the summer series sponsored by the Community Resource Centre on Tuesdays at First United Church Hall, corner of Richter Street and Bernard Avenue. The informal exchange of ideas includes a variety of home making and hobby type sessions as well as profitable ones.

On Aug. 8 resource centre personnel will teach you how to can easily and economically and will also give pointers on pickling that make the difference between crunchy delights and soggy efforts. They will also touch on the dos and don'ts of jam and jelly making. In addition recipes for preserving with honey will be included.

Other sessions, which will take the form of informal exchanges, include car repairs, with information for the novice; do-it-yourself ideas; what to do when the car stops or won't start.

Environmental problems can be tackled in the home as well as through industry and government and by becoming informed you can do your share. One session will be devoted to this timely topic.

If you're having budget problems (who isn't?) one of the informal exchanges will be devoted to home repairs, insurance pointers in regards to both life and car insurance and how to deal with creditors. What are the necessities and what alternatives are there, will be discussed by qualified persons in the community.

On the fun side, if photography is your bag, hints on equipment that will save time and money and how to build your own dark room, will be explained. Composition of pictures will be explained to help you obtain better pictures with variety.

Silk screening is an ancient art which has been revived in modern times. You will be able to make your own posters or design a special shirt, flag or pants, whatever you choose.

What bugs will be another topic. Organic gardening will cover effective plans for a successful garden and how to fight insects, nature's way, will be explained.

For dates for the aforementioned sessions, watch the Noca calendar of events.

Canadian Consumers Plan Protest On Proposed Hike In Coffee

TORONTO (CP) — The Consumers Association of Canada plans to complain to the federal government if coffee prices rise to the levels predicted by some supermarkets last week. Marjorie Harris, Ontario president of the association said today.

She said a survey will be taken of coffee prices across Ontario. If the price rises to the predicted level the association will follow with "strong action," she said.

General Foods Ltd. announced last Thursday the wholesale price of coffee will increase immediately by 12 to 18 cents a pound. The increase was blamed on frost damage to coffee plants in Brazil.

In Stellarton, N.S., William Sobey, president of Sobey's Stores Ltd., said increases in the cost of food "appear to be on the immediate horizon."

Mr. Sobey said any price increases in Sobey's stores are caused by increased costs of products. The company operates a chain of supermarkets in the Atlantic provinces.

"We have gone through a period of increases manufacturers delivered cost prices and it would appear there might be another round of it," he said.

DRIVING RISKS

Statistics show that in South Africa most highway accidents occur between 3 and 4 p.m. on Thursdays in private cars driven by people 40 to 49 years old along straight major roads in business areas in sunny weather.

VISITORS FROM ENGLAND

Members of the Kelowna Business and Professional Women's Club entertained at an informal luncheon on board the Fintry in honor of two of their counterparts from England and the two sisters of one of them. Left to right, back row, May Speirs, England; Mrs. Alex Fry, Kelowna; Mrs. Alice Runnalls, Kelowna; Olive Triller, England; Ella Speirs, England and her sister, Mrs. Harry Mitchell of Kelowna. Kneeling is Mrs. Elaine Johnson of Kelowna. Miss Triller and Ella Speirs are both members of 15 years standing with the Southend-On-The-Sea and District Club in England. Both retired now.

Miss Triller was a hospital welfare officer and Ella Speirs was employed as manager of a branch of the Ministry of Labor. The club, with a membership of 40, holds membership in the Chamber of Trade and Industry and meets at the headquarters there. The three visitors, with the Mitchell family, who were here in 1968, see many changes in Kelowna. Sharing photography as a hobby they took 1,100 exposures the last time and have been in demand through the Essex area, to show their pictures of Kelowna, the Rockies and Vancouver. They are again enjoying the sunshine, the friendliness of the people and the scenery of British Columbia and look forward to explaining, "Where is Kelowna?" to more of their countrymen on their return.

WOMAN

Quebec Cultural Affairs Has Clear Cut Ideas On Art

QUEBEC (CP) — With a budget of $20 million to subsidize all arts in the province, Cultural Affairs Minister Claire Kirkland-Casgrain must have some clear-cut ideas on the role of art in Quebec.

She does, and in her first four months in the post she has made clear her position on English theatre in Quebec, French influence on the arts here, big and small theatre companies and the French language.

A practising lawyer for nine years, Mrs. Casgrain was the first woman elected to Quebec's national assembly. She admits that being a woman in such a post brings its own difficulties, "not among ministers and members, but with civil servants in general who are unable to accept my role. I have one strike against me as a woman. It's a terrible fight."

ROLE FOR ENGLISH

Turning to some of the battles that are embroiling her ministry, she said in an interview:

"Of course there is a role for the English here, now... and in the future. They continue to make great contributions in all the arts and they are the chief supporters of so many artistic activities."

She added, however, "English artists should perform in an anglophone area since it wouldn't do them any good to operate in a predominantly French-speaking region. They should be conscious of their position as a minority and be willing to function in the context of this understanding."

As for setting up artistic guidelines for her department:

"I think we have to stop looking to France. We have a great deal to learn from the United States, for instance, though we must be careful to adapt what is useful to our own conditions."

"We also have much to gain by closer relations with Mexico. The Mexicans are doing very good work in archeology and have a marvellous national museum. They are interested in our Eskimo art and handicrafts and so, perhaps, we can arrange for some exciting exchanges."

GETS SUBSIDIES

Preservation of the French language is high on the department's priority list. Francophones outside Quebec are receiving subsidies and there is technical aid to French-speaking groups as far away as Louisiana.

That brings up the contentious issue of joul—a slang French often heard in Quebec. Mrs. Casgrain explained her department's recent refusal to finance a showing in Paris of Michel Tremblay's play, Les Belles-Sœurs, done in the joul.

"First, we weren't budgeted for such an unforeseen expense. Second, I have advocated for a long time that our writers should get away from the use of joul. It's all right to use this inside our borders... but we cannot export this language in other countries where it will not be intelligible."

She praises the theatre companies which try to attract a wide cross-section of the population.

She is less tolerant of "some large companies which seem to choose plays based more on management's personal political views than on the prime consideration of satisfying the community's needs for which they are subsidized."

GATHER DEFICITS

She has little sympathy either for "some large companies which are doing the kind of experimental plays that small companies should do, and as a result accumulating large deficits."

If a theatre wants to be totally committed to one political viewpoint, it should not expect government financing, she said.

She is concerned at the centralization of cultural activities in the large cities and among certain classes. An example of her approach to the problem is the Ladies Morning Music Club in Quebec, a closed social group with a $2,500 deficit owed to Le Grand Theatre.

"I told them they could have the money if they opened their subscription to the widest possible public; if seats were empty they should sell them to students for $1 or give them away to the poor. That's a condition of the grant and unless they agree they won't get any money from us."

Red Cross Water Safety Director Urges Caution At All Times

TORONTO (CP) — A large percentage of the people who drown every year have fallen off something stationary, a wharf, a river bank, a cliff.

A. W. Thiessen of the Canadian Red Cross Society says the statistic helps confirm the belief that the major single contributing factor in many drownings is panic.

It also underscores the importance of following safety rules all the time when you're near water, he says.

Mr. Thiessen is national director of water safety for the Red Cross.

Even when children appear to be in a safe spot, they should be supervised.

They should have life-jackets on and know how they feel in the water.

Children who are old enough should have some training. "At this time of year, it's speaking after the fact, but the number one preventive is some water skill and knowledge. If being near the water is a regular part of the family's living pattern, during the winter the parents should find some place where basic water skills can be taught to the children."

LEARN MECHANICS

Mr. Thiessen says Red Cross formal instruction is restricted to children six and over on the grounds that younger children may learn the mechanics of swimming, but will not absorb the whys and hows of water activities.

"Before that, any age from infant on, there must be an adult in a one-to-one situation. There is no doubt that training can take place, but it should be a leisureed experience with a trusted adult. We don't subscribe to shock approaches."

Mr. Thiessen says the Red Cross has revised its approach to teaching.

"We now begin with the three principles basic to being able to perform in water. We establish the principles of buoyancy, you know your body will hold you up, propulsion, you know how to push yourself forward, and the long position, you know streamlining is the most efficient position."

"Then you have the kids go in the water and try and do instead of going the old rote way of teaching swimming strokes on land."

"Experienced teachers have always done these things, worked with what they have. The whole educational field is moving in this direction of challenging the youngsters, then encouraging them to learn."

DO PILOT STUDY

The Red Cross is also having a pilot study done to help them decide where the emphasis should go in their safety campaigns. Two students in Winnipeg are doing a computerized study of drowning accidents in Manitoba during 20 years, to find out how and why they occurred. Mr. Thiessen says the whole country will be done if the provincial study seems useful.

In the meantime, he urges constant caution near water. "There are about 1,100 to 1,200 lives lost a year in drowning accidents. Out of 22 million people, a lot of families are not touched, it's something they read about. But it only has to happen once to your family and it looms very large."

Patio Salads Are Great Fix Ahead, Enjoy Regatta

It's summertime and everyone tries to spend as much time out of doors as possible. Despite the mosquitoes and other bothersome insects, patio suppers seem to be very popular this year. The meal may center around a barbecue, cold meat or hearty salads, but there is one item that is always included—fresh salad vegetables.

For patio meals, try serving an attractive salad vegetable platter as an accompaniment. Prepare crisp relishes with radishes, carrots, cucumbers, green pepper, ahead of time, and it will take just a few minutes to arrange an attractive salad platter. Then, each person can make his own salad by choosing from the variety of salad ingredients offered. Pass sour cream as dip or grated cheese as topping for the vegetables.

For an attractive salad tray, the home economists, Agriculture Canada, Ottawa, suggest the vegetables be prepared simply with a few cut into fancy shapes as garnishes. All the relishes can be prepared ahead of time. They may need crisping in cold water for a hort while. Then they should be kept in the refrigerator in a plastic bag or covered container with paper towelling inserted to absorb excess moisture.

Attractive garnishes for a salad platter are:

Carrot Curls—Cut long, paper-thin slices of carrot using a vegetable peeler. Roll each slice around your finger and fasten with a toothpick. Chill in ice water. Remove toothpicks just before serving.

Celery Bundles—Cut 3-inch, narrow celery sticks and draw two or three of them through a carrot ring. Chill in ice water.

Cucumber Accordions—Cut young cucumber in halves and in sections 2 to 4 inches long. Cut thin crosswise slices about three-quarters of the way through the cucumbers. Insert thin radish slices in slits.

THE ELUSIVE FASTBALL

Rutland Rovers pitcher Arnie Rath whips a fastball at Willow Inn Willows' Daryl Weninger in Kelowna and District Senior Men's Softball League semi-finals Tuesday, which the Rovers won 3-0 thus eliminating the Willows from the series. Second baseman Mickey Kroschinsky awaits the result of Weninger's hefty swing but wasn't called upon as Rath got the Willow batter on strikes and went on to pitch a six-hitter in registering the shutout win. Rovers meet Budget Boys Sunday in the first game of the finals. Game time is 8 p.m. at King's Stadium. (Courier photo)

Everything Is Set To Go For Regatta Water Events

Any regatta worthy of the title revolves around a body of water. And Okanagan Lake will be no exception, for this year's 66th annual Kelowna International Regatta has a healthy slate of aquatic events which should provide keen competition for the participants and plenty of entertainment for spectators.

Here are a few examples:

DIVING
Over 50 divers from various parts of B.C. are expected to compete in the Regatta diving competitions Thursday in the aquatic pool.

The competitions will start at 9 a.m. with warm-ups, while the main events will commence at 11 a.m. Dives will take place at both the one and three metre levels.

Meet chairman, Dr. George Athans, reports invitations were sent out to various clubs in the province including Haney, Empire pool in Vancouver, Dawson Creek, Courtenay and points in the Interior.

Coach of the Kelowna diving team, Ferne Ditomassi, feels three divers from her team will do well in the meet. They include Gary Athans in the boys 10 and under age group; Bruce Goode in the boys 15 and 16 age bracket and Colin Campbell in the boys 17 and over.

The annual across-the-lake swim on Thursday is snapping up to be one of the most competitive thus far, with more than 50 swimmers entered.

The swim, which is to get underway at 9 a.m., will start at the old ferry docks on the west side of the lake and finish at the aquatic pool in the City Park, covering roughly one and one-third of a mile.

The event is strictly open to members of the Ogopogo Swim Club and is run by Bruce Clarke, coach of the swim club. Ages of the swimmers competing in the swim range from nine years up to 21 years old.

Although both girls and boys will do the swim as a group there will be trophies presented to the individual girl and boy who completes the swim in the fastest time.

The boys will be vying for the Treadgold's trophy, while the first girl to finish will receive the Marg Crafton trophy. There will also be an award presented to the youngest swimmer to complete the swim.

Two favorites to watch for in the boys' category are George Goodwin and last year's winner Bill Gale. Both have been working hard all summer on their swimming and will be ready to challenge the endurance race.

Marlaine Wahl, assistant coach with the Ogopogo Swim Club and the first girl to finish the swim last year, will again participate in the race, but is expected to have some tough competition from other top girl swimmers entered.

SKI JUMPING

When the sport of water skiing is mentioned in the Kelowna area the name of George Athans is always closely followed, but there is another Kelowna athlete who is making his name more noticeable every day. John Ashley, 17, is proving himself as an up and coming star in water skiing competitions, particularly the jumping event. Ashley has shown that he is a top notch jumper by breaking Athan's Canadian record jump of 117 feet with a jump of 127 feet, while competing in a tournament in the United States.

There is also another tough competitor in the family, in 18-year-old Doug Ashley, who concentrates more on slalom and trick skiing. Both skiers are currently participating in a tournament held in Nelson this weekend.

The Ashleys have been skiing for four years, three of those competitively, and have been coached by various top skiers in the world. One of the coaching sessions that they have attended is the Mike Snyderdough skiing school in the U.S., where they were under the watchful eye of the former world champion.

One of the most important competitions they will face takes place at the end of this month when they attend the tryouts for the water skiing national team in Montreal.

BLANK WILLOWS 3-0

Rovers Earn Berth In Finals

It will be the Rutland Rovers and Budget Boys in the finals of the Kelowna and District Senior Men's Softball League.

Rovers entered the finals by defeating the Willow Inn Willows Tuesday night 3-0 and take their best-of-seven series 4-1.

Rovers picked away at the Willows picking up runs in the first, second and fifth innings, while the Willows' biggest threat came in the sixth inning when they had the bases loaded with one out.

It was again the power hitting of Dave Kroschinsky that provided the win for the Rovers.

as he belted two hits, including a triple, to score two runs. Kroschinsky was the hero in the last game of the series as he drove in the only run in the Rovers' 1-0 victory.

Arnie Rath picked up the win for the Rovers by giving up six hits, three walks and collecting five strikeouts. Rath's biggest trouble was a Willow rally in the sixth, as he walked one batter and gave up two hits to load the bases with only one out.

Rath then settled down to get the next two batters on a strikeout and a pop fly.

Larry Yeast suffered the loss for the Willows by giving up four hits, four walks and had four strikeouts.

Aside from Dave Kroschinsky's two singles the only other Rovers to pick up hits were Don Kroschinsky and Rath.

Jim Elko, no doubt the Willows strongest hitter in the series, again led the Willow Inn club at the plate with a perfect three hits at three turns at bat. Yeast also picked up a double in a losing cause.

Rovers and Budget Boys have one thing in common—depth of pitching staff, with both teams having three strong pitchers capable of going the distance.

Rovers have three tough hurlers in Rath, Dick Beeststone and Ken Hehn, while the Budgets' starters Don Schmidt, Rick Kraushar and Gib Loseth are as equally effective.

Budget Boys sport a powerful batting line-up, with league triple-crown winner Ed Sehn leading the way. Norbert Kort, Following the first game Sun-hals and Ian Angus are also long ball hitters who can give opposing pitchers nightmares.

IN FASTBALL SEMIS

day, action will resume on Tuesday and Thursday. All games are in King's Stadium at 8 p.m.

Belkin Waltzes To Third Round Of Canadian Net Championships

WINNIPEG (CP) — Mike Belkin of Montreal had little difficulty advancing to the third round of the Canadian national tennis championships Tuesday but Vicki Bernar, the top-seeded woman, had to fight for her victory.

Belkin, the No. 1 seeded men's singles player, waltzed past Dave Johnston of Vancouver 6-0, 6-1 in his first match of the tournament. The top Canadian player in recent years, Belkin gave up only eight points in winning the first set and used his familiar two-handed backhand to send Johnston to the sidelines in the second.

Miss Berner also won her first match but it was a stubborn Iona Jones of Vancouver who finally yielded the victory 6-4, 6-3.

None of the top-seeded players suffered defeat with about half the second round completed but Louise Brown of Port Credit, Ont., seeded No. 8 failed in her bid to remain in the competition.

GALT GIRL WINS

Kathy Morton, 18, of Galt, Ont., overcame first-set jitters to defeat Mrs. Brown 4-6, 6-4, 6-2.

"It was a tough match," Miss Morton said later. "I guess the score of the final set was indicative of the play. She made a lot of mistakes in that set."

In other games, Tony Bardeley of Vancouver, seeded No. 4, defeated Butch Freedhoff of Toronto 7-5, 6-3; fifth-seeded Pierre Lamarch of Montreal beat Jim Matthews of Winnipeg 6-2, 6-1 and Dale Power of Toronto, the number eight seed, defeated John Plozman of Hamilton 6-2, 6-0.

Janice Tindle of Vancouver, the woman's No. 2 seed, polished off Pat Marks of Ottawa 6-0, 6-1 and the third-seeded player, Andrea Martin of Montreal didn't give Della Lubin of Toronto a game in winning 6-0, 6-0.

Barbara Brankovsky of Toronto, seeded No. 5, beat Claire Sutton of Montreal 6-2, 6-4.

Hayes Inks 5-Year Pact With Bullets

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore Bullets announced today that superstar Elvin Hayes has signed a five-year contract with the National Basketball Association team.

Agreement was reached in Houston last week, hearing off a federal court hearing on a petition filed by the Bullets after Hayes was obtained in a trade which sent Jack Marin to Houston Rockets.

With Hayes seeking to renegotiate the remaining six years of a 10-year contract, Baltimore asked the court to uphold the old agreement.

The Bullets also sought an injunction to prevent Hayes from playing or negotiating with any other professional team until the contract expired.

The court petition said Hayes sought more money while alleging a 10-year, $1.07-million contract originally signed with San Diego was based on "grand and undue influence."

Heather Takes Top Honors At Red Deer Riding Event

Heather Bradshaw, 15, of Kelowna, was among the top winners at the three-day horse riding event held in Red Deer, Alberta, last weekend.

Miss Bradshaw took top honors in the training level riding her small stallion Co-Co Kusshi.

The demand and toughness of the courses involved in the three-day event was obvious in that out of 18 riders that entered at the training level, only five finished.

The events are broken into three sections with the first being the dressage. This is where the horse's obedience towards the rider's commands is tested.

Then comes the cross-country ride which covers various roads and tracks and is the longest event.

The third section takes place on the third day and is the toughest of all. It consists of stadium jumping, over a set course, and usually reveals how much endurance horse and rider can manage.

Miss Bradshaw excelled in this section as she whizzed through the course flawlessly and in the fastest time of the day in her level. When the small size of Co-Co Kusshi is also taken into consideration the feat becomes more outstanding.

Next important competition stop for horse and rider will be at the end of the month when Miss Bradshaw participates in the training level at the Western Canadian championships in Calgary, Alberta.

Hockey Canada Must Stick To Its Decision—Eagleson

TORONTO (CP) — The directors of Hockey Canada must stick to their decision to bar any players who have signed with the World Hockey Association from playing for Team Canada against Russia in September, Alan Eagleson said Tuesday.

Eagleson, who represents the National Hockey League Players' Association on the Hockey Canada steering committee, said in an interview that the exhibition series with this country and the Soviet Union might blow up if the agreement with the NHL is not honored.

"As pleasant as it would be, I don't think Bobby Hull, J. C. Tremblay or Terry Cheevers at the cost of the series and this will happen if we renege on our 'greement,'" he said.

Hockey Canada steering committee meets today at noon to decide final formation of Team Canada and the full board of Hockey Canada directors will meet after the committee session.

Lions Out-Bumble Esks To Lose 34-22

EDMONTON (CP) — Edmonton Eskimos stumbled on a new way to win a football game Tuesday night, but it's doubtful they'll put it in their Western Conference playbook.

The idea is to ruin the opposition's game plan with your own fumbles, something the Eskimos did seven times as they opened the regular WFC season with a 34-22 victory over British Columbia Lions.

"Hell, how can you stick to a game plan when you're faced with nine fumbles," coach Eagle Keys said after his Lions blew a half-dozen chances to overcome a 20-point lead the Eskimos had piled up in the first half by taking advantage of a couple of B.C. bobbles.

"It was a game of fumbles," Keys said, the difference being the Eskimos made the most of the ones they recovered while the Lions missed the boat too often.

"We moved the ball well in the second half but couldn't do anything with all those fumbles," Keys said.

JAUCH GLUM TOO

Edmonton coach Ray Jauch wasn't overjoyed with his loose-fingered charges either.

"I've got a lot to discuss with both the offence and defence," he said.

Three Eskimos who probably will escape censure are Ron Forwick, George McGowan and Tyrone Wallis.

Forwick, a veteran Canadian, intercepted a pass and ran 45 yards for the touchdown that wrapped up the Edmonton triumph with 16 seconds left to play.

Split end McGowan caught two touchdown passes and Walls picked up a fumble and ran 40 yards into the B.C. end zone for six points.

Quarterback Bruce Lemmerman scored the other Edmonton touchdown, but took some of the polish off his performance by dropping the ball twice. Dave Cutler collected the other Eskimo points with four converts.

Halfback Gene Foster was another Eskimo standout, rushing for 106 yards, but he also earned a mild rebuke from 18,844 fans for two fumbles. His running mate, Sam Scarber, also dropped the ball twice.

"The team was playing well in the first half, but we couldn't hang on to the ball in the second," Jauch said.

Keys said: "They got the jump on us when (Jim) Even-son fumbled on the game's opening play. But we got our back when Sam Scarber dropped the ball early in the second half."

"When you're down 19 points at the half, you've got to play catch-up football. We moved the ball well in the second half, but couldn't do anything with all those fumbles late in the fourth quarter. Hell, it was a game of fumbles."

Each club scored two touchdowns after muffed recoveries, but the Lions muffed a third opportunity from the Edmonton 12-yard line when Eskimo defenders knocked down three

Colbert's Slingshot Bat Drives In 13 Padre Runs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nate Colbert performed a magic act in Atlanta Stadium but when it was all over, not even he believed it.

Colbert blasted his way into the record books Tuesday night with a slingshot baseball bat that hurled five home runs into the stands and drove in a record 13 runs during San Diego Padres' sweep of a double-header against the Braves.

The five homers in the 9-0 and 11-7 Padres victories tied the mark of Stan Musial of St. Louis in 1954. The 13 RBI eclipsed the major league record of 11 shared by Cleveland's Earl Averill in 1930, Boston's Jim Tabor in 1939 and Baltimore's Boog Powell in 1968; and the National League standard of 10 by Enos Slaughter of St. Louis in 1947.

He also broke the NL record of 12 RBI in two straight games by Jim Bottomley of St. Louis in 1924, and Musial's mark of 21 total bases in a doubleheader. The 26-year-old first baseman

Tax Problems Force Harris To Give Up Swedish Post

TORONTO (CP) — Billy Harris, former National Hockey League player who coached Sweden's national hockey team last season, has decided not to return to Stockholm.

Harris said Tuesday night the Swedish Ice Hockey Association has not been able to solve his income-tax problems and he decided not to sign a two-year contract.

MELBOURNE (CP-Reuters) — Jungle Jim Hunter of Calgary, the lone Canadian to make the finals, finished seventh in the men's slalom event at the big international ski competition on Mount Buller, Victoria, today.

David Zwilling of Austria won the event and the Wills-Gantas Trophy, clocking one minute, 52.5 seconds for two runs. Zwilling had conditions and almost zero visibility.

VICTORIA (CP) — Two teams from the host city were winners Tuesday as the B.C. Pony League baseball tournament opened here.

Victoria Triangle built up a 5-0 lead in the first three innings and hung on for a 6-3 triumph over Kamloops, and Victoria Carnarvon scored seven runs in the third inning and went on to a 9-1 victory over south Burnaby.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Carlos Ortiz, former world lightweight and junior-welterweight champion, needed only three rounds to send Johnny Copeland to the canvas Tuesday night to claim his ninth consecutive comeback victory.

Title Fights Will Be Held In Vancouver

TORONTO (CP) — Three title bouts will be held on one card at the Pacific Coliseum in Vancouver on Sept. 9, believed the first time in Canadian boxing.

Nick Zubray, who promoted the Muhammad Ali-George Chuvalo heavyweight fight May 1 in Vancouver, announced the three-fight card Tuesday at a news conference.

In the feature bout, Clyde Gray, Canadian welterweight champion, will defend his title against No. 1 contender, Fernand Marcotte of Quebec City in a 12-rounder. Gray, formerly of Halifax, now lives in Toronto.

In the other bouts, Billy McGrandle of Edmonton, former Canadian featherweight champion, will take on Joe Mangillio of Montreal in the opening title bout and Al Ford of Edmonton, Canadian lightweight champion, will fight Paul Tope of Quebec City in the other title bout.

Namath Signs Two-Year Pact

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP) — Flamingo Joe Namath, after signing a two-year contract Tuesday with New York Jets, refused to discuss terms of the agreement, but sources claimed the package was worth $500,000, making him the highest paid quarterback in pro football.

"No figures will be given," Namath told a news conference at the National Football League team's training camp. "I don't think that's necessary."

Can Sware The Wheeler-Dealer Make Challengers Of Chargers?

SAN DIEGO (AP) — No matter what happens to San Diego Chargers, no one will ever accuse Harland Sware of being afraid to make trades.

What remains to be seen now is how effective the San Diego head coach is in blending the talent he has acquired into a team that can challenge traditional powerhouses Oakland and Kansas City in the American Football Conference West.

Sware's four trades in the last two days brought to 15 the number of swaps he has made since taking over the Charger coaching reins with four games to go last season.

The players who have recently donned Charger uniforms have significantly bolstered San Diego's defence, which last year was third worst in the NFL in terms of yardage given up.

And the offence, which last season relied heavily on the fine passing arm of quarterback John Hadl, now boasts a legitimate rushing threat with the addition of Duane Thomas and Cid Edwards to a backfield which already features Mike Garrett.

GETS VETERANS

At defensive end Sware has brought in veterans David (Dacon) Jones and Lionel Aldridge, while drafting rookie Pete Lazetic of Stanford. At defensive tackle he has added George Wright, Dave Costa and Greg Wojcik. At linebacker he's acquired Ed Philpott. He also has picked up Tim Rossovich, who can play any of those positions.

We've only just begun.

A special session of the Legislature in October will bring the benefits of the Kelowna Charter to all British Columbians

The first twenty years of Social Credit Government have resulted in great strides throughout our social and economic life. But great as these achievements have been, the important thing today is what the future holds for the people of our province. When Premier Bennett announced the Kelowna Charter on June 1st, he proved that this Government continues to create policies which truly matter to all the people of British Columbia. A special session of the Legislative Assembly will be held in October to ratify the Charter and allow us to begin the important job of extending new benefits to British Columbians in all walks of life.

To create jobs through new secondary industries

An expanded range of secondary industries can mean thousands of new jobs for British Columbians. This is the main idea behind the British Columbia Development Corporation. This Crown Corporation will provide loans at extremely low rates — only one percent interest during the first year — to new industries engaged in food processing or other secondary manufacturing.

An end to succession duties and probate fees

At the special Legislative session, succession duties and probate fees will be cancelled. This will allow British Columbians to build up capital in their own hands . . . for investment in enterprises which aid provincial growth and create new jobs.

Higher pension for senior citizens

British Columbia's supplementary allowance to the federal Old Age Pension is already the highest in Canada — and this allowance will be further increased by the end of the year. This new benefit, included in the Kelowna Charter, will be in addition to the $50 annual grant instituted this year for all home-owners and renters aged 65 years and over.

No more gift tax

The gift tax affecting individuals, charitable organizations and foundations will also be cancelled at the special session.

Increased social assistance allowances

This province provides the highest social assistance allowances in the nation . . . and this year, the benefits will again be increased for citizens who are handicapped through age, mental or physical disability.

The minimum wage will be increased

In most areas of employment, British Columbia's minimum wage levels are already the highest in Canada . . . but this Government accepts its responsibility to provide increased minimum wage standards. This, too, will be acted upon at the special Legislative session.

Subsidies for youth during job training

British Columbia's youth of school and university age will be given special aid in gaining on-the-job training through a new social assistance program. Under this plan, the Provincial Government will subsidize the youthful employee by sharing in the payment of wages and salaries.

These humane, job-producing policies are worthy of your support.

Be sure....

QUITE A TUBE

Bonnie Snively stands by a 200-pound power tube, one of the largest, heaviest and most powerful manufactured at the RCA plant, Lancaster, Pa. It is designed for television stations who want to radiate 31 kilowatts of power with an ultra-high-frequency transmitter.

Slain Ste. Therese Youth Buried And Then Riot Act Order Lifted

STE. THERESE, Que. (CP) — Andre Vassard, whose death Friday sparked a weekend of violence, was buried Tuesday and the tough provisions of the Riot Act were lifted hours after the funeral.

The act, which prohibits public assembly of more than three persons, expired Tuesday night. It was read Sunday night by Mayor Rene Robert and re-read 24 hours later, to remain in force during the funeral of the 16-year-old Vassard, killed by a local policeman. It must be read every 24 hours to remain in effect.

The youth's coffin was escorted by Quebec Provincial Police from the church to the cemetery, as the streets were jammed with cars full of youths and sightseers.

About 200 persons attended the funeral, including Maurice Vassard, father of the dead youth, and two other sons. Thirty persons were arrested Sunday and three more Monday as police barricaded the area around city hall where the weekend demonstrations took place. None of the arrests were for contravention of the Riot Act.

"The business over the weekend was so entirely unnecessary," said Yvon Joyal, deputy police director. "Relations between the police and the kids in town have been very good, on the whole, though we do have a very definite drug problem."

Police said they found a substance "that looks like tea leaves" in plastic bags near the youth's body.

"We were planning a youth aid section, to get a better rapport with the kids concerning these things. We were to start this fall. Now this..."

Mr. Joyal said that when a Ste. Therese constable was killed by a holdup man last year "everyone was there at the funeral with kind words."

"Now they seem to see one of our fellows as a murderer. The whole thing has been prejudged."

INQUIRY ASKED

Justice Minister Jerome Choquette was asked Monday to hold a public inquiry into the youth's death.

Mayor Robert said there will be a coroner's inquest as well as an inquiry by the provincial police homicide squad and added he would welcome a public inquiry.

Computer Communications Seen As Key In Many Fields

OTTAWA (CP) — A report released today says computer communications must be spotlighted as a "key area of industrial and social activity," requiring the federal and provincial governments and private industry to work closely together.

The two-volume, 411-page report, prepared by a special computer communications study group, urges the government to play a guiding role in the infant industry.

But the report, submitted to Communications Minister Robert Stanbury, stresses that the government should encourage development of a free-wheeling, computer communications industry able to compete successfully against U.S. firms.

The study group is opposed to tough measures aimed at stemming the flow of information from Canada to U.S. data banks. Instead, it argues that lower costs and a more efficient industry is a better way to keep vital information in Canada.

The study group, headed by Dr. Hans Jacob von Raeyer, was appointed in November, 1970, to look at the impact of computer communications on Canada and to make suggestions as a possible government action.

There is little regulation of the computer communications industry now though governments do regulate the use of telephone and telegraph lines over which computer messages are carried.

Among the main recommendations in the report:

—The communications department should co-ordinate federal activity in computer communications and should promote planning and research in the field.

—The telecommunications regulatory body, now the Canadian transport commission, should referee rate-setting and connections between computer communications networks.

—Telecommunications common carriers, such as the telephone and telegraph companies, should be allowed to provide computer data processing services under certain conditions.

—Chartered banks should be permitted to supply computer services to the public provided it is in the banking field.

—Universities should be restricted to supplying commercial data processing service only when they have extra capacity and the service cannot be sought elsewhere.

—Federal policies should be aimed at reducing costs and improving efficiency to offset the attractiveness of U.S. firms.

—Governments should consider requiring a degree of Canadian ownership of organizations providing services which have a cultural impact on Canadians.

—The communications department should co-ordinate the setting of standards so that the industry can grow in an orderly manner.

The report says that the computer equipment industry is already too tough for Canada to crack. The big computer manufacturing firms in other countries already have the market sewn up so that Canada cannot expect to control the computer equipment industry in Canada, the group suggests.

But Canada should have a major share of the commercial data processing market where computers provide specific services to customers, the study group says.

The report suggests that where foreign-controlled companies have Canadian subsidiaries they should be required by government to use Canadian data processing facilities wherever possible.

The report also says that legislation will probably be needed to ensure that organizations distributing material with cultural content are limited to a foreign ownership and control.

The study group was obviously thinking along the lines of government limits on foreign ownership and control of broadcasting stations. The government now limits foreign ownership of broadcasting operations to 20 per cent.

Rebuilt Motor 'Never Put In'

VANCOUVER (CP) — A Vancouver service station operator has fined $500 Tuesday for defrauding a woman motorist by charging her for a rebuilt motor that was never installed in her car.

Provincial court Judge Nick Mussallem also ordered Asad Barlas, 31, to pay off a $600 debt Lila Fuhrmann of New Westminster incurred with a finance company to pay the garage bill.

Evidence was given that Mrs. Fuhrmann took her car to the service station for repairs and was charged $350 for a rebuilt motor, $100 for installation and $20 for parts and tax. The total bill came to $570.

The crown proved that the motor had never been changed. Mechanics testified that visual examination and tests showed the motor in her car was not a rebuilt motor but the original.

Barlas was given six months to pay the finance company and three months to pay the fine. Prosecutor Jim Ball's request for a jail term was rejected by Judge Mussallem because it was a first offence.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

It Helps To Know About Angina

By George C. Thosteson, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: There are some things about angina pectoris spasms that I don't understand.

When I am indoors I almost never have these spasms unless I am exerting myself to a very high degree. But when I take a walk on a cold, damp, raw and especially windy day, the first 10 or 15 minutes are all right. But then I feel the pain and have to resort to nitroglycerine tablets. How do you explain it?

Will warm or moderately hot weather minimize the effects? Is a change to a warmer climate advisable? Do allergies to dampness and bronchitis aggravate the problem?

Would vitamin E help stimulate blood circulation, or any other means to dilate the cardiac arteries?—A.J.K.

A good deal of your question can be answered by making clear what these angina pectoris spasms are. They are spasms, or cramps, in the heart muscle.

When the heart muscle is overworked, these spasms can occur—the term itself, angina pectoris, means chest pain of that type. The heart muscle spasms are a good deal similar to the cramps that can occur in some other muscle, say in the leg, if it is subjected to too much continued strain.

Let's start with the basic thought that there has been some damage to your heart. The muscle may have been damaged by a heart attack, or there may have been damage to one or more of the heart valves, so the heart has to work harder to pump the same amount of blood.

In a word, your heart can manage pretty well so long as it is not required to do too much work. But when it is required to work harder, and pump more blood, the angina cramps start.

When you are indoors, you don't experience the pain unless you exert yourself "to a very high degree." Understandable, isn't it?

But when you are walking outdoors on a raw, windy day, 15 minutes can cause the pain.

Why? Because on a raw day you walk along steadily. That's exercise. That's "work." With a wind, you may be walking into the wind, which takes added effort. Or you may fight the wind if it is at your back. It still takes more energy.

Finally, the temperature itself has an effect. Just keeping your body warm uses up energy, and that means more work for your heart.

Add these factors together, and you have the reason for those anginal pains.

Need you move to a milder climate? You could. But I wouldn't consider it necessary. There are angina patients who experience pain from far less exertion than you do—even from walking a block or so to a parking lot.

In your case, if you know you are going to be walking for a distance that brings on pain, taking a nitroglycerine tablet in advance will help.

Yes, allergies to cold or dampness, and bronchitis add to the total physical burden, so they can do their unwelcome bit.

Vitamin E? Some claim it helps. You can try it if you wish. At least it won't hurt you.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is there any harm in storing foods such as tomatoes or salad dressing containing vinegar in stainless steel bowls?—Mrs. F. J.

No.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Does fever always accompany pneumonia?—D. F. S.

Usually, along with cough and chest pain.

Opening lead—five of spades.

When Sylvia first joined the club, which was soon after she started to play the game, the first reaction of the members was that the Admissions Committee had made an absolutely dreadful error in accepting her application.

It was not that Sylvia played so badly—we had all seen lots of players who, despite years of experience, simply hadn't caught on to the game—it was rather that the errors Sylvia committed were of a kind that, no one in their wildest imagination had ever encountered before.

But as time wore on—and some of Sylvia's mistakes somehow miraculously reacted in her favor—the membership grew more tolerant of her exotic approach to the game, and, in fact, her extraordinary talent for doing the wrong thing at the right time eventually came to be accepted as a legitimate part of her makeup.

One of Sylvia's earliest triumphs occurred on this hand where she was West and led a spade against three notrump. Declarer won with the jack and realized that he had to develop the heart suit in order to make the contract. South realized, furthermore, that his best chance by far was to rely not on a heart finesse but rather to play for Sylvia to have specifically the K-x or K-x-x of hearts. In that case, leading the ace and another heart was likely to render the defense absolutely helpless.

Accordingly, he led the ace of hearts at trick two, planning to continue with a heart. Undoubtedly South would have made three notrump had he been playing against anyone else, but when Sylvia accidentally played the king instead of the six on the ace, he suddenly found—to his great discomfiture—that there was now no way of making the contract! So, in her own inimitable way, Sylvia triumphed again!

YOUR HOROSCOPE

Thursday, August 3

Aries (March 21-April 19): Financial pressures ease off, but it's still no time for wild speculations. Appreciate your minor blessings; life is not simple.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): Rely on your personal knowledge and, where it does not extend, wait until you have checked out details before making final deals.

Gemini (May 21-June 20): Comment is plentiful from all sides, some of it uncomfortable, but all partly justified by what you've been letting people think.

Cancer (June 21-July 22): Morning arrangements are susceptible to upset, later hours spend out smoothly as you persist, hold your tongue and temper.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): New projects collide with older ventures not yet finished. Communication of precise information is your most difficult problem.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Annoyance over interference with your plans gets you deeper into inconvenience. Nobody comes to bat for you—it's your own effort.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Decide what is most valuable to you and concentrate on saving and improving it. Side issues have to wait or resolve themselves.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): A friend has something to say and won't rest until you permit a complete statement. Listen, learn, and reform!

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Taking help graciously runs against your pride, but is something you can learn to do. You're more thumbs than fingers now.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): A change of opinion baffles you. Stimulus for the change is something you can see but don't recognize or evaluate.

Peking Eyes Mao's Heir

PEKING (Reuter) — China may be on the brink of naming former marshal Yeh Chien-ying, an old guard revolutionary, as defense minister to succeed Lin Biao, whose death while fleeing the country was confirmed here last Friday.

Yeh, who is 71, is close to Chairman Mao Tse-tung and Prime Minister Chou En-lai. His genial appearance and artistic interests belie his military toughness. A skilled diplomat, he is considered No. 3 in the leadership after Mao and Chou.

Since Lin Biao died in a plane crash in Mongolia after plotting a coup which would have led to Mao's death, Yeh has made important speeches on several state occasions. He toured the Forbidden City with President Nixon here in February and startled reports by saying "The president has brought with him peace and good harvests."

Diplomatic sources believe his appointment may be announced within a few days. He is expected to make the principal speech tonight at the defence ministry banquet on the eve of the 45th anniversary of the founding of the people's Liberation Army.

Yeh has had an impeccable record in the Chinese revolutionary movement since he worked with Sun Yat-sen, founder of modern China, in the early 1920s.

He was the first mayor of Peking after the Communists took power in 1949 and has held a variety of military and party posts since then. He is vice-chairman of the central committee's military commission, under Mao, its chairman.

Oil Pollutes Alaska River

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representative Les Aspin (Dem.-Ia.) said here an Alaska river has been polluted by an oil leak even before construction of a controversial trans-Alaska pipeline.

In a letter to Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton, Aspin said an oil leak at the Alyeska's Happy Valley construction camp has gone uncorrected for 18 months and caused ecological damage to the Sagavanirktok river, commonly called the Sag river.

The diesel-fuel leak may have killed or damaged 400 cutthroat grayling fish in the stream, said Aspin, an opponent of Alyeska's proposed pipeline. The interior department has located it will grant a permit for the 800-mile pipeline linking North Slope wells with the Gulf of Alaska port of Valdez.

Aspin wants, instead, a pipeline through Canada. "If the interior department can't even correct a relatively minor spill in one of Alyeska's camp sites before construction has even begun on the Alaska pipeline," Aspin wrote, "how is it going to prevent much larger, potentially catastrophic spills from occurring?"

Critics contend the Alaska pipeline would be subject to rupture by earthquakes.

Crop Yield Down But Prices Are Up

RUTLAND (Staff) — Rain towards the end of the cherry season cut 108 tons off the amount that went through a local packing house this year, compared to 1971.

Manager Hugh Fitzpatrick said the 1972 amount was 175 tons compared to 283 tons last year. At blossom time this year an estimate of 350 tons was made. However, there was not a particularly good set, knocking the estimate to 240 tons. As cherries began to size, it went down again to 212 tons.

Cullage was about 30 per cent, almost twice the 17 per cent average. Wineries paid seven cents a pound for culls.

However, because of the smaller crop, the price went from 29 cents a pound last year to 40 cents this year, said Mr. Fitzpatrick. His packing house handles mainly bings, lamberts

Quilt Inquest Jury Hears Final Arguments Of Lawyers

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP)—The coroner's jury investigating the death of Chilcotin Indian Fred Quilt was expected to begin considering a verdict today.

The jury heard summations Tuesday from four lawyers involved in the case and was to receive final instructions today from provincial court Judge D. F. McNeill of Quesnel.

A total of 45 witnesses testified and more than 50 items were entered in evidence during the inquest, which began July 17.

Mr. Quilt, 55, died in Williams Lake Nov. 30 and a coroner's jury there ruled in January that his death was unnatural and accidental.

During the second inquest here, Mr. Quilt's wife Christine and sister-in-law Agnes told the jury they saw an RCMP officer "jump up and down" on Quilt in a Nov. 28 incident on Highway 20, east of Alexis Creek.

RCMP Constables Daryl Bakewell and Peter Eakins denied this in their testimony, saying they found Quilt and three other members of his family "extremely intoxicated" in a pickup truck that was blocking the highway and took them to the nearby Anahim Reserve.

Constable Eakins said Mr. Quilt had apparently passed out behind the wheel of his truck and Constable Bakewell said Mr. Quilt fell to the ground twice while being removed from the truck and placed in a police vehicle. Mr. Quilt's truck was later found burning down an embankment.

During the inquest, Dr. Han Choo Lee, a Williams Lake surgeon who performed an autopsy on Mr. Quilt, said he found death to have been caused by peritonitis, an inflammation of the abdominal cavity, resulting from a complete severance of the small bowel. However, pathologists Dr. John Sturdy of Chilliwack and Dr. Glen Martin of Kamloops said they doubted that this was the cause of the peritonitis and believed the bowel was broken after Quilt's death.

In Tuesday's summations, Harry Rankin, representing Mr. Quilt's estate, said Mrs. Quilt's actions immediately following the alleged incident were consistent with her allegations and were the actions of "a responsible person worried to death about the condition of her husband." He said her actions on the night of Nov. 28, such as attempting to lay a complaint through a reserve priest, negated the possibility "that either the Quilts were dead drunk and the whole thing didn't occur or that this is a conspiracy fabricated by these people."

On the conflicting medical evidence, Mr. Rankin suggested that Dr. Lee was in the best position to know what had happened because he personally examined Quilt's body. "You can speculate and Dr. Sturdy and Dr. Martin can speculate, but these (Dr. Lee's findings) are the objective conditions observed by a qualified surgeon," Mr. Rankin said.

Gunnar Eggertson, representing the federal justice department, said 17 points in Mrs. Quilt's testimony, including her denial that anyone in the truck had been drinking vanilla extract, were contradicted by other witnesses. "If somebody has been wrong on 17 things, are they right on the things that matter?"

Mr. Eggertson said it is inconceivable that Mr. Quilt could have suffered the injury described by Dr. Lee without external bruising. He said the real cause of the peritonitis will probably never be known.

Peter Jensen, representing Constable Bakewell, said no possible motive had been shown for the constable to have jumped on Mr. Quilt, as Mrs. Quilt had alleged. "Can you find a logical reason to give to Bakewell to do the things he is said to have done?"

He said the evidence of the case was consistent with Constable Bakewell's and Constable Eakins' testimony and disputed Mr. Rankin's statement that Mrs. Quilt's actions after the alleged incident support her allegations. Mr. Jensen said Mrs. Quilt's first action after being returned to Anahim was to leave her husband and return to the truck to check its condition.

Mr. Jensen suggested that Mr. Quilt's peritonitis was caused by a small perforation, rather than a complete severance, of the bowel and said this may have occurred when he fell. He said such an injury would fit evidence of Mr. Quilt's condition on the day before his death, such as the testimony of a doctor and a nurse who said that on Nov. 29 Mr. Quilt appeared ill, but not extremely so.

Crown counsel David Hinds, appointed by the attorney-general's department, said his position in the inquest was one of neutrality and he had attempted to call all relevant witnesses and introduce all relevant evidence so "justice will be seen to be done in these proceedings."

Cambie Road Zoning Change Arguments Made To Board

Arguments for and against zoning, the planning advisory committee recommended the zoning revert, and the owners would not lose money.

The land was changed from single to multi-family in 1969 so E. H. Milke of Kelowna could build 10 apartments. Nothing has been done, so last month the board authorized preparing a bylaw to reverse the zoning.

Howard Berge of Kelowna, lawyer for the applicants, said the "light money" situation kept them from proceeding, there are duplexes nearby, the area is close to shopping facilities, and the Milkes would lose money if the project did not go through.

These arguments were countered by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Nahirney, 235 Cambie Rd. "they said that, if the present zoning remained, it would be 'spot'"

NAVY OFFICER

ROY V. HENNING

Regatta Has True Commodore

Each year the Kelowna International Regatta selects a Regatta Supreme Commodore, who they feel represents the theme and feeling of the Regatta. This year at the 56th Annual Regatta the Commodore will be, a Canadian Navy Officer, Commodore Roy V. Henning.

Commodore Henning is at present chief commanding officer at the Canadian Forces Base, Esquimalt. The Commodore at Regatta acts as Chief Officer of all events during the week.

Commodore Henning was born in Kerrobert, Sask., March 13, 1918, and entered the Royal Canadian Navy Volunteer Reserve in March, 1941, at Edmonton where he was attending the University of Alberta.

The Commodore received his first naval training in Halifax, and on his first two tours of duty served at Dartmouth, N.S. and Esquimalt. Early in 1944 he was sent to be a staff member for the Director of Naval Ordnances at Naval Headquarters in Ottawa.

With the war over and the greatest part of the navy back in civilian life, Commodore Henning transferred to the RCN as an ordnance officer and was given a posting at the naval armament depot in Dartmouth. From this posting the Commodore was assigned to the Canadian Joint Staff in London, England, and later took a posting on the RCN Cruiser Ontario. Late in 1955 he was appointed to the position of Deputy Assistant Chief of Naval Technical Services, again at Naval Headquarters in Ottawa.

After two years of service in Ottawa Commodore Henning was appointed Principal Naval Overseer East Coast, in Halifax and in 1959 he became Assistant Naval Attaché on the Canadian Joint Staff, in Washington, D.C.

Three years later in 1962 he was posted back in Ottawa this time as Director of Weapons Systems. After doing a stint as Program Manager Missile Systems returned to his former job in Ottawa until the unification of the Armed Forces.

On the occasion of unification at the Headquarters in Ottawa, he was appointed to be Director Project Formulation and Management on the staff of the Director General Programmes.

Commodore Henning was promoted to his present rank in October, 1965, and in March, 1967, he was appointed as Commander of HMC Dockyard in Esquimalt.

In January of 1969, he was made Base Commander, Canadian Forces Base Esquimalt as well as remaining Commander of HMC Dockyard. The Commodore's distinguished career as a naval officer enhances his appointment as this year's Regatta Supreme Commodore.

COMMODORE R. V. HENNING

All Commodores 'Well Chosen'

This year's Regatta commodore in real life is a true commodore. He is Commodore Roy Victor Henning, CD, base commander of Canadian Forces Base, Esquimalt.

He will have as honorary vice-commodores, Donald J. McDougall, Vancouver; Murray McWhirter, Vancouver; and Grant Herrington, Vancouver.

HONOR CITY

Kelowna, Hobart Have Similarities

Hobart Regatta Founded In 1838

Every year, the Kelowna International Regatta Association selects a city that has something in common, however obscure, with our community.

This year's honor city is Hobart, Tasmania, and the common bond, besides a beautiful climate and apples, is a prestigious fun-filled affair known as the Royal Hobart Regatta, the biggest aquatic event of this nature in the Southern Hemisphere.

Founded in 1838 by English explorer and governor of the island, Sir John Franklin, the Royal Hobart Regatta has been described as Tasmania's only true national celebration.

Steeped in tradition, the regatta covers many colorful pages of Tasmanian history and the passing of time has brought many changes. Primarily a racing event, the whalers and short fairs have been replaced by the outriggers and since the turn of the century it has passed on from one success to another, with an ever-increasing list of events to provide the "greatest aquatic carnival south of the line."

With the second regatta, the first agricultural show in the state was held, and a man was locked up for stealing a flower entered by a competitor. This was perpetuated in later years by a race for senior oarsmen called the Ladies Purse.

A horticultural show was again held in 1840 and led to the dismissal of the officer in charge of the Government Gardens, forerunner of Hobart's present Botanical Gardens. He was reported to the authorities after having refused a competitor the loan of a watering can and some water.

A gloom was cast over the 1850 Regatta when tragedy struck the sailing races. A rain squall sank one boat and resulted in several drownings.

ROYAL RIGHT

All Hobart Regattas are 'Royal' and the right to use that prefix came in 1934, even though there had been a Royal Regatta in 1884.

The People's Day had continued happily, until the Great Intercolonial Regatta of 1884, when it was decided to fence off the People's Playground, as Hobart's foreshore was frequently called.

Public indignation reached great heights and a mass meeting was held in front of the town hall from which the enraged townsfolk marched to the grounds and trampled down the offending barricades.

The eventful year which heralded the new nation of Australia brought the 65th anniversary of the regatta on Jan. 23, 1901, but news of the death of Queen Victoria cast a deep gloom over the gal affair.

But in the years to come, success followed success until the magnificent pageant of 1938 the Centenary Regatta—which upheld all the traditions of the past hundred years.

During World War One, all profits from the regatta were placed at the disposal of the Panel of Patriotic Organizations and during World War Two, the regatta grounds were also placed at the disposal of this organization.

In 1946 a lavish carnival was staged, when the regatta association conducted the Southern Tasmanian Regional Victory Celebrations and the Victory Regatta of that year eclipsed all previous records.

The 125th Anniversary Celebration was held in February of 1963, and The People's Day was honored by the presence of Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh — the first occasion on which a reigning monarch had attended the regatta.

The departure of the royal yacht Britannia from the Regatta Ground, escorted by a large fleet of yachts and power boats, provided a spectacular sight.

All forms of aquatic sports are catered to and the regatta relies on generous public support for this "free for all" Tasmanian birthday celebration.

The sight which greets the eye on the water is a majestic one today, with the Australian navy fleet overlooking the scene and units of the Royal Australian Air Force flying overhead, providing displays of formation and acrobatic flying.

Glistening sails of all types of craft, from stately yachts to the impudent and ever-growing mosquito fleet, provide brilliant tussles for supracracy.

High speed power boats hurl spray in all directions, leaving a foaming white wake behind. Every conceivable type of craft is to be found cruising around Hobart's sparkling harbor.

Swimming, diving and life-saving displays make important contributions to the program along with other added delights.

SPRUKERS

All the piquancy of an Old English Faire can be found on the Foreshore, where each showman loudly proclaims, "the greatest show on earth" in the great canvas city which springs up overnight like a huge mushroom and to many thousands, the endless patterns of the "sprukers" in their efforts to wile "a few bob" from the pockets of an ever-willing and appreciative public.

Beautiful Tourist Resort In Heart Of Fruit Area

The honor city for this year's Regatta is Hobart, Tasmania, home of the Royal Hobart Regatta, which is the largest water show in the Southern Hemisphere.

Tasmania itself is known as the Island State of the Australian Commonwealth and Hobart is the capital city. The similarities between Kelowna and Hobart are striking to say the least. Like Kelowna Hobart is situated near a large body of water and is centred in the fruit growing area of Tasmania. The city is the largest port of the Island State and has a population (including suburbs) of 123,000.

The city is situated about 12 miles from the mouth of the River Derwent, which rises into Lake St. Clair.

The Hobart harbor is classified as one of the best in the world, and is the southern terminal for the Sydney-Tasmania vehicular ferry, "Empress of Australia."

BEAUTIFUL SITE

It would be difficult to find a city set in more beautiful surroundings than Hobart, for its eastern confines are built along the western bank of the Derwent, and its southern and western boundaries extend up to the foothills of Mount Wellington. The mountain rises 4,168 feet above sea level and the summit is accessible by a road which recently has been constructed.

The panoramic view afforded visitors at the top of the Mountain overlooking Hobart is one of the finest in the world.

Undoubtedly one of Hobart's greatest potential revenue-producing assets is the full scale development of its tourist industry. Since the end of the Second World War, rapid strides have been made in tourist development with the result that today the industry is considered to be among the Island's as well as the city's top money earning industries.

Hobart and surrounding area of Tasmania is a tourist resort of unsurpassed beauty, blessed with a pleasant and temperate climate. It is for that reason thousands of people from mainland Australia annually cross the Bass Strait, either by sea or by air, to spend their vacations in this area of infinite scenic variety.

DAY'S TRAVEL

The fact that Tasmania is comparatively small in area is a distinct advantage to the visitor because, owing to the excellent network of roads with which the State is provided, any part of the Island may be reached in one day's travel or less from Hobart. Thus the wide diversity of scenic beauty is easily accessible without long periods of arduous travel. The Tasmanian landscape can be described as beautiful, rising frequently to grandeur. The mountains of the western half of the island, and the bold coastline of the south and southeast are particularly notable. The vegetation is rich and varied, and the countryside is characteristically green.

The Tasmanian climate, with its warm summer (January, February, March) and mild winters could be classed as pleasant. The yearly average temperature in Hobart is 54.4 degrees. February is generally the hottest month with Hobart averaging 70.6 degrees.

While the sun shines only 5.9 hours a day (average) in Hobart the air in the city is substantially free from mist, fog, dust and other air impurities.

ORCHARDS

Favorable climatic conditions, not unlike our own Okanagan Valley, permit production of a wide variety of agricultural crops around Hobart and the Derwent Valley. Like the Okanagan the largest share of crop land is devoted to orchards.

Foremost among the crops in value is the apple and pear crop, production of which has exceeded seven million bushels annually on the average.

The apples and pears are noted for their fine quality and more than four million bushels annually are shipped to overseas countries—more than two thirds of the total Australian exports of this product. Stone and berry fruits such as apricots, plums, cherries, raspberries, etc., are also grown for local consumption and for processing.

Hops are grown around Hobart and the Derwent Valley and yields in the order of three million pounds dry weight have been harvested. This is the main hop-growing area of Australia and the greater portion of this crop is exported to other Australian states.

FORESTRY CENTRE

Hobart is also the centre of the forestry industry in Tasmania. The State Forestry Commission in Hobart has authority to deal with all matters connected with state forests and with the exploitation of timber on all Crown lands. The commission's policy is directed toward the sustained production of logs to maintain in perpetuity the potential necessary for continued operation of the sawmills and wood-pulp industries.

Scientific research and use of modern techniques is enabling progress to be made along the lines of re-forestation programs on the Island.

Of course the greatest attraction to the city of Hobart is its Royal Hobart Regatta, tooled as the largest of its type in the Southern Hemisphere.

ONE OF THE FIRST REGATTAS
... Truly a water event

REGATTA HISTORY

'You've Come A Long Way Baby!'

SINCE 1906

Like the ad says: "You've come a long way, baby!" According to the yellowed pages of the Kelowna Courier and Okanagan Orchardist, the whole thing began back in 1906, when the people gathered at the foot of Bernard Avenue "for fun and frolic with boat races added as a special attraction."

It was a great success, that first "regatta," so they decided to make it an annual event. Well, here we are 66 years later and Canada's Greatest Water Show has never stopped. It has run through two world wars, survived the June, 1969 fire which demolished the Aquatic grandstands and regatta buildings in City Park.

Even a daring Blue Angel, who broke the sound barrier over the city that year during a flying display, didn't halt the Regatta, which is to mid-summer in Kelowna what the festive season is to December.

COCK FIGHTING

As early as 1912, there were ladies' sailing races and cock fighting. And B.C.'s lieutenant governors, from Hon. Randolph Bruce on, have lent their patronage every year.

By 1920 the swimming events had been extended and there was a whole section of field events, sprints and jumps. There was swimming under water and a "greasy pole"; there was lacrosse, and baseball matches in the afternoon, and a dance from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m.

By 1923 the prizes were worth more than $1,500. Nelson, Vancouver and Kelowna were competing for the UCT Trophy in four-oared shells; there was the B.C. championship swim for juniors, 220 yards; but the field events weren't there.

There were 65 events in the 1925, with prizes worth more than $2,000. In addition to all the swimming and boating events there was an exhibition of surf riding, a bullion race, a cube race, and the final lacrosse league game, Armstrong vs. Kelowna.

The next year His Majesty's Coldstream Guards Band gave a concert, and there was a confetti carnival and fireworks display in the park. In addition to the swimming and boating, there was an umbrella and cigar race, a girl guides' relay race, and a cube race, and a Ford engine launch race.

77 EVENTS

In 1927 they added an apple box race; in 1929 there were 77 events. The regatta was still two days in August, Wednesday and Thursday, swimming, plunging and diving events were sanctioned by the B.C. section of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association. On the back of the program was a course chart for sail and power boats. In these years the program listed the regatta as being under the distinguished patronage of the lieutenant-governor of B.C.

In the early days, it was a local event, but in 1931, former mayor and alderman and the man known locally as 'Mr. Regatta,' Dick Parkinson, stepped in, a new group took over and the Regatta started to roll on to become an international event.

The people began coming from all over Canada and the western United States. In fact, some came to stay, like Olympic and Empire Games medal winner, Dr. George Athans, called the "diving doctor," and his wife, Irene, a swimming champion from Manitoba.

The couple has produced three more champions, George Jr., an international water skier who just happens to be the best in the world; Greg, a Gold Medalist in the men's slalom at the '71 Winter Games and Gary, 10, who has won his share of swim meets.

INTERNATIONAL

By 1937 the regatta was the International Kelowna Amateur Regatta; it had grown from just the Kelowna Amateur Regatta. Besides that, there were 13 Canadian championship events and six B.C. championships; there was a midway, an exhibition of water skiing and free-boarding; an exhibition lifeboat race between Penitents and Kelowna Sea Scouts; baseball tournament; wrestling; Jack Strong vs. Louis Bonaparte; "The Flying Frenchman"; and a grand fireworks display courtesy of Shell Oil Co.

There was a regular dance at the Aquatic Pavilion and an overflow dance at the IOOF Hall.

REGULAR COVER

In 1939, instead of the usual naming of regatta officials on the front page, the program had a regular cover. It was growing. There were 16 pages of advertising, where before there had been none. The big swimming boating events were even bigger. There was an exhibition of lifesaving and swimming formations; "Flaming Torch" water skiing; an aquacombedy by "Hit And Miss," the Aquacombos; there was a robotic log rolling by Russ Ellison and partner (as featured at the New York World's Fair); and band concerts galore.

In 1940 it was the "Win The War" Regatta. A day nursery cared for small children. There was box lacrosse, Kelowna vs. Kamloops for the Interior of B.C. championship. Aquacombedy was by the Flying Fish; there was a monster naval pageant and the Burning of Hitler at the midway entrance.

Hitler was surrounded by war savings stamps, which the donors were burning to give the government a free gift.

There were 42 cups and trophies up for competition in swimming, diving and boating events.

CHAMPIONSHIPS

The "On-To-Victory" regatta in 1941 featured many B.C. championship events, horseshoe pitching championships for the interior, water skiing, log burling, and a massed military parade. The 1942 event was the "Thumbs Up" regatta. In 1943 it was the "Liberty" regatta; in 1944 the "Liberation" regatta and in 1945, the International regatta once again. The Lady of the Lake event had grown to a full pageant and returning soldiers were duly impressed.

By now the regatta was truly international. Bands from all over the continent, including the U.S. Sixth Army Band, participated in the regatta parade.

In 1947 the program showed the Canadian ensign and the Stars and Stripes crossed on its cover. Almost all events were either Okanagan, Interior or provincial championships. The Wenatchee Drum and Bugle Band was a popular entry in these years. Baseball was a regular feature. There were dances galore — in the Zenith Hall, in the Scout Hall, in the Aquatic Pavilion, at the Tennis Courts. The Klismen sponsored the midway.

In 1948 there was ornamental swimming, with Margaret Hutton, the North American champion; there was hydroplane and speedboat racing; there was an air show. Jerry Colona, a famous entertainer, was the star of the Wednesday night show in the Aquatic; there were 57 cups and trophies.

The organization now was tremendous. There were 26 committees, from policing to Sainn's Hot Drivers, to wrestling and air show, dances, publicity, gates, and billeting to the raftie. A new Aquatic Club House and grandstand were proposed.

By 1950 the Aquacade, featuring synchronized swimming, was the main attraction. "This year the Tuesday night water show should far surpass any previous efforts as some of the continent's finest water stars will perform with a lighting background that will feature underwater lighting for the first time in Regatta history," said the program. Water skiing made rapid progress. The auto show was the Death Dodgers. The big regatta show as "Melody Under The Stars," starring Yogi Yorgesson with MC Spec Watkins, the original voice of "Pop-eye," Margaret Hutton, Toronto's Mermaid, was the swimming star of the day.

The 45th regatta, in 1951, had come a long way from the first one-day affair. It was now three days. Harvey Hodgins was the feature singer of "Aqua Rhythms of 1951." The show, which was performed two nights (Friday and Saturday), was a pageant, "The Sage of Oka and Nagan," with local talent. The directors were professionals from back east but the spirit was from Kelowna.

The Regatta has had its ups and downs over the years, many of them financial. In 1970, the budget was $61,000 and a profit of $98.10 resulted. Last year the budget figure was $70,000, with a net profit of $114.

Things seem to be getting better, though, and Regatta director general Ev McKee says this year's budget should be about the same with hopes for a profit in the neighborhood of $200.

The object of course, is not to make money, but it sure beats being in the red. Dates this year are August 2 to 8, with the Australian city of Hobart, Tasmania, picked as the honor city, another tradition that has come down through the years, to honor a different city each year.

As a matter of fact, the Regatta itself is a tradition, and as one former organizer put it, "So long as Kelowna lasts, there will be regattas."

BOLSTER AND BAR

With a little help from your friends it's as easy as falling off a log. Bound to be a hit during the water events portion of the Regatta, the Bar and Bolster Championships get everybody into the act. Two contestants straddle a log across a pool and slam each other with pillows (bolsters) and the one to fall into the water first is the loser. The reigning champion is Campbell River recreation director Maurice Farn, who also invented the game.

Fabulous Parade Is The Kickoff

"Be there a spirit free who does not march with me," is one poetic way to describe the fabulous Regatta parade which has become a traditional kickoff highlight of the famous water classic.

"It will be just as big and as good as last year," says parade marshal, Norman Robinson who, with assistance from 10 co-chairmen, has been planning the mile-long Jaycee sponsored extravaganza since mid-March.

"We've had good response locally," he added, referring to the parade committee's efforts this year for more city and district participation. To date, more than 80 entries have been received.

In addition to 12 bands and hundreds of other visual and audio goodies, the parade will include 45 floats, each competing for a grand aggregate trophy as well as other awards in community, commercial, novelty and service clubs and.

EYE CATCHING

One of the most eye-catching sights of course, will be the Regatta float decorated with Lady of the Lake elect, Lindsay Ritchie and her princess elect, Donna Hamilton, with the comely collection of the 10 other candidates who participated in the royalty contest exhibited on the Jaycee float. Doing the chaperoning duties this year again will be Captain Vancouver, Harvey Rourke. The visual bonus will be enhanced with the presence of current Lady of the Lake, Wendy Nichols, and princess Trudy Walker, waving to crowds on the city float.

Not all the pulchritude will be local. Many points in the province will be represented by visiting royalty displayed on hometown floats or in convertibles.

Other parade attractions will include the Merritt Knight, complete with historical costume of mail, lance and sword and trusty steed, plus familiar crowd-pleasers, the Capeceles of Vancouver and the Kamloops Rube Band.

Familiar sights and sounds will encompass the Edmonton all-girl Pipe and Bugle Corps, 115 members strong, the Hobema, Alta., Indian band and the Kelowna Legion Pipe band. The Vernon army camp will be musically represented with a 300 man pipe band and marching contingent, part of the latter of which will be a special corps from Quebec.

CLOWNS

Cavorting clowns will be an integral part of the parade as usual, dispensing laughter and goodies to thousands of children along the route. And, of course, Winnie-the-Pooh will be up to his particular brand of animated frivolity with balloons and stickers for the small fry.

Headed by the lead-off contingent of dignitaries the parade starts at 6 p.m. today from the marshalling area at Martin Elementary School on Graham Street, proceeding west along Bernard Avenue to Water Street, and north past city hall to the dispersal point past Doyle Avenue. Marshalling commences at 5 p.m., following afternoon judging of floats.

To lessen the work load on administration, organizational duties have been delegated among 10 co-chairmen, including deputy parade marshal, Donald Simmons, and entry chairman, Rod Cousins.

The parade has been the particular pet of the Kelowna and District Jaycees for 15 years, and the spectacle has become the highlight preamble to Canada's greatest water show for thousands who line the parade route along Bernard Avenue.

Much Work And Planning Director General Finds Out

EV McKEE

On behalf of the Regatta Association, I would like to invite all the citizens of Kelowna and all the visitors in Kelowna to come out and enjoy this year's show.

This has been my first year in Regatta and I have been in a position to hear various questions and statements about Regatta. I often wonder how many people in Kelowna have any idea of the amount of work and planning which goes in to putting on Regatta.

The Regatta committee consists of ten elected directors and a full time secretary-manager. These people, working with clubs and associations in town, arrange your Regatta events. Like any volunteer group, we make mistakes. However we try to correct our mistakes whenever possible and to learn from them.

Planning begins early for Regatta and, in fact, is already underway for Regatta '73. Ideas for revising, discontinuing or planning new events must be well underway by Christmas.

An example showing the work involved is the Regatta program. When you buy your program this year, take a good look at it. Think of the hours involved in the selling of the advertisements, the write-ups of the different events and the final layout of the program.

This program must then be sold to the public.

Someone must also be responsible for the accounting of all the money received from sale of the program and the advertisements. This again involves time and work. This is just one part of Regatta.

EV. McKEE
... director general

I'm sure everyone realizes the work involved in putting on the night show. The arranging of the lighting, the sound, the advertising, the ticket sellers and takers, and getting the actual acts, all involve a tremendous amount of work.

How many people also think of the work involved in the arranging of the swim meet, the hydroplane race, the free entertainment at the Jubilee Bowl or the Agriculture fair.

When you're in the Park this year take a good look at what is really going on and take note of the events you particularly like or dislike. A letter to the Regatta committee can give them more ideas or suggestions for future years. Remember that Regatta is a show for all of Kelowna and is, in fact, Kelowna's show.

Okanagan Valley Famous For Summer Playground

Once upon a time, and it really wasn't so very long ago, the Okanagan Valley was summertime country.

Who would ever think of visiting in the winter. Why, they've got snow there, said the people down by the Pacific Coast who flocked into the valley when the apple, peach, pear and cherry blossoms bloomed.

Their thinking has changed in the past few years. Skiing is a big thing now. It's a whole new winter game.

Winter has become big business, and the whole picture — skiing, curling, skating, hockey — looks bright to a lot of valley businessmen who used to view the Labor Day weekend with gloom.

The valley is so pleasant in winter. Not pleasant weather so much because of the temperature which can still skid below zero at times, but because the air is clear and crisp and the highways are not busy and there are always motel rooms and hotel rooms available and the restaurants are not crowded and people just relax and enjoy life.

But summer is when the valley really comes into its own. Summer has made the valley famous.

Spring, the boosters say, comes to the Okanagan earlier than the rest of the Interior. Maybe so. It may be the anticipation of the orchard blooms.

Nobody has ever claimed that the cherry or apple blossom, viewed individually and critically, is any prettier or lovelier than any other flower.

when you can drive up into the hills at almost any point in the valley and look down upon a rolling, foaming, pink and white sea of orchard, then there is a view worth driving a long way to see.

But that is only one of the valley's many attractions. For the blossoms are gone too soon. The lakes remain, as they always have, blue and glistening in the sun, virtually free of pollution, numerous enough so no one need feel crowded.

Take Okanagan Lake. Now, there's a lake. Eighty miles long from its northern tip just west of Vernon to its southern shore lapping against the beaches of Kelowna. Look at it, even on a perfect day — a cruiser down there, a sail way over by that shore, two figures in a small boat fishing, motionless, off that dock. Doesn't anybody ever use it? Of course they do.

FITTING

The choice of Hobart, Tasmania, as the honor city for the 66th Annual Regatta is fitting as that city hosts another rather famous regatta, The Royal Hobart Regatta, which is the largest water event in the Southern Hemisphere.

Scores of thousands do know. They don't care about fishing. Boating doesn't appeal to them. They can windowshop in the stores where they live. They've seen the movies. All they want to do is lie on the beach, or around the pool. They want sun and, as Flip Wilson says, "What you see is what you get."

The Okanagan Valley gets sun. Every day. Well, almost every day. Anyway, around 2,000 hours a year.

Its boosters used to call it "The California of Canada." Then they stopped doing that. They figured the valley could shine in its own image. They were right.

So they went back to calling it "The Sunny Okanagan Valley." And the people from the rest of British Columbia and Alberta and the prairies and the United States just keep coming.

Fine snow and great skiing in winter and really sparkling sun in summer is an unbeatable combination. And the spring show of blossoms and the autumn harvests from the orchards are thrown in for good measure.

WINE MAKING

Kelowna not only boasts of two fine wineries in the area but also of quite a few amateur wine makers. Judging by the response to the Agricultural Fair's contest on wine-making the area may have more wineries springing up soon.

LINDSAY, VIRGINIA, GEORGIA WITH ANTIQUES

LADY OF THE LAKE

'She Dares To Be Herself'

This year's Lady of the Lake, Lindsay Ritchie is a typical product of the Soaring Seventies — she dares to be herself. A versatile young woman, she is independent, yet very close to her parents and family; responsible enough to want to earn her own pin money and not too proud to clean stables or trim hedges.

Ballet dancing, cooking, sewing and such sports as swimming, skiing and horse back riding are favorites with this tall 5 feet 6" slim girl with hazel green eyes and golden blonde tresses.

An outgoing Kelowna Secondary School Student, Lindsay likes people and is interested in everyone and everything in the community. One of the things she likes best about her own life are the family discussions at the dinner table, when topics range from what's happening in the Valley, to the province and world affairs.

Lindsay the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ritchie of Boucherie Road has a brother Stuart, a year older than Miss Gyro and four sisters, Sandra Lee, 16; Cathy, 15; Georgia, 13; and Virginia, 11 years.

Lindsay who plans to complete her grades 11 and 12 in one and half years, lists English and social studies as her favorites. She is also a top biology student. Career-wise she is interested in child psychology, in journalism and in fashion editing. She loves to sew and design her own patterns.

So far, Lindsay's education has been a blend of performing arts, home arts and discipline and sports.

VALLEY PRODUCT

Born and raised in the Kelowna area, she took ballet lessons at the Canadian School of Ballet for six years and during her grade eight year, attended the Banff Summer School of Arts.

She also attended the Shawinigan Lake private school for girls, where she learned, she says, with a grin, "How to burn fudge." Seriously she says, this was a valuable year, during which she learned to knit, sew and crochet from an English governess-type teacher. Her first sweater, she remembers, was a loose garment which looked more like a long underwear garment instead of the first pair of mitts, sported two thumbs.

However girls at the school learn to be independent, learn to accept others and do things they never thought they could do. For example, she never sang before and ended up in the school choir.

Agriculture Fair In Second Year

By MRS. W. J. SULLIVAN
Regatta Agricultural Director

Hello! It's Fair Time again, and there are many fairs on the way in every part of the province. On behalf of the Kelowna Regatta and our Regatta Agricultural Fair we welcome you to Kelowna.

For our Fair committee this year is an event which affords an opportunity for cultural relations and friendships between people travelling here from every part of North America. We are looking forward to working and planning with agricultural enthusiasts from every part of the great Okanagan Valley.

This year's Fair has ten categories and each one is interesting as well as unique. The competitions at the Fair will be in the areas of: Needlework, Hobbies and Handicrafts, Vegetables, Handicapped Exhibits, Children's Section, Home-Made Wine, Home Cooking, Flowers and Kooky Contests.

Why not bring us the results of your labor. As many entries as you want will be accepted until Wednesday, Aug. 2, at 10 a.m. The opening day and judging will be done on that same afternoon. The Kooky Contest will be a daily event at the Fair. The Kooky contest will include such things as children with the most freckles, checker games for oldtimers, charleston for the mamas and pappas and peaches and cream for the teen-agers.

SWIM TEAM

The champion synchronized swimming team from Norway will be appearing at Regatta night show. The team consists of Ann Kristin Thorvaldsen, Anne Norlund and Ann Kari Storhand.

SYLVIA SULLIVAN
... director

Due to the large number of summer visitors we also provide display opportunities for Valley growers and producers to allow visitors the chance to view the many fine agricultural products from here.

Displays at this Fair will include: MacInnes B.C. Honey, Summerland Sweets, B.C. Tree Fruits, NOCA Dairy, Agricultural Museum, Niagara Chemicals, Burnett's Nurseries, Cominco Fertilizers, City of Kelowna Flower and Greenhouse display, Water Basin educational display and the Provincial Department of Agriculture display.

These are but a few of the Action Booths involved and we sincerely hope to be included on your summer fun days.

Also this year for the first time there will be country tours through a Valley apple orchard compliments of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Menu. If you need any further help just go down to the Regatta Headquarters on Ellis Street and the people there will give a hand.

HOSTESSES

New Role For Candidates

Kelowna's Lady of the Lake candidates have a new role to play this year — acting as hostesses for the visiting royalty.

The 23 out-of-town Queens and Princesses from all parts of the province as well as Wenatchee, Wash., will be entertained at a number of garden and coffee parties and Kelowna's Royalty, Lady of the Lake Lindsay Ritchie and Princess Donna-Mae Hamilton and the other 10 candidates will each be responsible for the 'happiness' and well being of one or more of the out-of-town guests.

Not only will they accompany the guests to the social functions, but they will also provide unofficial hospitality in between events.

Candidates taking part in this courtesy role are: Miss Snowmobile, Annette Glover; Miss Jaycee, Judith Allan; Miss Beta Sigma Phi, Carol Ann Prytula;

Miss Rotary, Nancy Lee Clark; Miss Canadian Forester, Joanne Wolfe; Miss Legion, Susan Gay Riddell; Miss Harmonie, Birgit Moeller; Miss Teen Town, Jacqueline Muir; Miss A.C.T., Carol Zayonce and Miss Kinsmen, Virginia Slobodian.

The visiting charmers, headed by Miss PNE, Judy Stewart of Penticton are: Queen Gail Peters and Princess Beverly Ann Christianson of Kamloops; Queen Dianne Stein and Princess, Cathy Berner of Rutland; Queen Shelley Medynski and her attendant, Mary Wysota of Vernon; Queen Eileen Bonin and Princesses, Leigh Fleet and Valerie Palm of Penticton; Queen Regina Helgason and Princess, June Peeters of Surrey. Nakusp and Burnaby will also be represented, but names were not available.

In addition to taking part in the Regatta parade which starts at 6 p.m. Wednesday, they will be guests during the opening night show.

Thursday morning they will be guests along with the Kelowna girls at an IODE coffee party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max dePlyffer, Mathison Place.

At 2 p.m. the same day they will be among the fans at the water volleyball game at Hot Sands Beach, when visiting mayors battle it out with the Lady of the Lake candidates.

A pool and patio party sponsored by the regatta association at the home of Mrs. Lois Williamson at 6 p.m. will round off the Thursday agenda and on Friday morning they will all be guests at the Regatta coffee party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Moss, 2500 Abbott Street.

During their stay they will be guests at the InnTowner motel.

SNOWBIRDS IN FORMATION

Okanagan Man Is Leader Of Performing Snowbirds

The Snowbird Formation Demonstration Team consists of eight white Tutor jet trainers flown by flying instructors from Canadian Forces Base Moose Jaw. The aircraft is the same as that used to train pilots in the CAF. The team provides a twenty minute routine involving a seven plane formation in various patterns interspersed by a solo aircraft. The team trails white smoke in all manoeuvres.

The team was formed in 1971 at CFB Moose Jaw and appeared in a number of air shows including Abbotsford, Moose Jaw Homecoming and the Canadian International at Toronto.

The team leader is Major Glen Younghusband of Summerland. The team opened their 1972 season with an air show in Kelowna, B.C., on the 13th of May. This year the team will provide displays at the Kelowna International Regatta plus a host of smaller celebrations across the country.

The Snowbirds take off in a six plane formation followed in two seconds by a three plane formation. Shortly after take-off the two formations join up into an eight-plane diamond. The formation crosses in front of the show line in eight-plane diamond and exits away from the crowd. The formation enters head-on to the crowd in an eight-plane diamond formation. During the pull-up the solo aircraft breaks off to the right as the formation forms a seven-plane double diamond pattern.

The seven plane-formation exits from the show while the solo aircraft, coming from the right, completes two slow rolls. As the solo departs to the left, the Snowbird formation enters from that same direction in Arrow Formation. The formation departs to the right and pulls up for a turn reversal. The Snowbirds then return before the crowd where they do a slanted 360-degree turn in arrow formation. The Snowbirds then exit to the left.

The solo aircraft enters from the right side. This time he completes a 360-degree level turn in which he exerts five to six times his normal body weight. The Snowbird Formation enters from the left in Goose formation doing a slanted 360-degree turn at centre stage before departing to the right side.

The solo pilot enters from the right. This time he completes a loop in front of the crowd. This manoeuvre is taught to all basic pilot trainees during their pilot course. The Snowbirds enter from the right in card-7 formation and do a slanted 360-degree turn in card-7 formation.

From the right side again the solo pilot, this time doing an inverted pass. The Snowbirds change to wedge formation. They enter from the left and do a slanted 360-degree turn, then exit for a turn reversal and cross-over in front of centre stage.

From the right side again the solo pilot, does a Cuban-8. This manoeuvre looks like an eight lying on its side. The seven-plane formation enters from the left in a 'VIC' pass. During this pass the pilots experience weightlessness as they bunt their aircraft over the top. The solo pilot returns from the left to complete his last pass, a vertical-8.

The Snowbirds enter head-on in 'VIC'. As they pull-up the three wingman on each side break off and cross-over behind, while the leader completes one-half a Cuban-8 manoeuvre.

The Snowbirds return to the airfield for landing.

The Canadian designed and built Tutor (CT-114) Jet Trainer is used as the Basic Training Aircraft for the Canadian Armed Forces. The Tutor is fully instrumented and pressurized, making it capable of climbing to 41,000 feet and cruising at 450 mph. The aircraft is fully aerobatic and will recover from a spinning manoeuvre with hands-off the controls. A normal cross-country leg would be from Vancouver to Calgary, Calgary to Regina, Regina to Winnipeg etc.

The Orenda J-85 engine produces 2700 pounds of thrust at sea level.

The Tutors used by the Snowbirds have been slightly modified by adding the piping and tanks for the smoke generating equipment. This addition of smoke makes it easier for spectators to follow the team's intricate formation patterns as they carve through the sky. The Snowbirds aircraft are the same as used by Golden Centennaires during Canada's Centennial Celebrations in 1967.

'Paint In' Popular Event

For the third consecutive year the popular 'Paint In' event will be taking place during our 66th Annual Kelowna International Regatta. Everyone is welcome to participate.

Paintings will be judged and prizes awarded. All paint and supplies will be supplied by the Kelowna Regatta Association, with the paintings to become the property of the association.

A paint-in auction will be held on Sunday, August 6th, 4:30 p.m., at Jubilee Bowl. All proceeds going to the Regatta Association.

The chairman for this year's paint-in will be Patricia Moroz. Entry fee of $2.50 will include two park admissions.

NEW DATES

Due to the conflict in dates with the Pentecost Peach Festival it was decided to move the Regatta dates next year to the last week in July. So if you plan on catching the show next year keep the week of July 25 through 29 open for Regatta.

MASTER OF CEREMONIES

Howard Hardin, this year's Regatta master of ceremonies, is also a comedian and juggler. He is a former San Francisco 49er football player who switched careers and is making it big in show business. He has been a perennial favorite at Klondike Days in Edmonton, where he appeared for four consecutive years. He has emceed the Calgary Stampede for two consecutive years as well as many other shows across Canada and the United States.

REJUVENATED

Ogopogo Swimming Club Geared For A Big Week

The rejuvenated Ogopogo Swim Club of Kelowna has the distinction of being among the pioneer swim clubs in British Columbia.

Many Kelowna residents can remember the great teams from the Ogopogo Club during the past years. Names like, Gavin Young, Sue France, Janice Walker and Hank Van Montfort all restore memories of championship swimming competitions.

Well watch out, because according to the coach of the Ogopogo Club there are plenty of able swimmers coming up through the ranks.

Bruce Clarke, a Kelowna resident and member of the UBC swim team is leading the club this year to what he hopes will be a very successful season.

"At present we have 75 swimmers in the club ranging from seven to 18 years old," Bruce said.

"The team practises every day with the juniors swimming at the pool of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Williamson and the seniors practising at the Capri pool."

Bruce, himself a member of the Ogopogo Swim Club for seven years before going to UBC has taken part in most every major swim meet in Western Canada.

For two years running he has captured fourth place in the Western Canadian finals for the 100 and 200 yard breast stroke competitions and last year picked a sixth place in the 50 yard free style competition.

MAIN GOAL

Bruce's main goal right now, however, is to get the Ogopogo Club in shape for the province-wide competitions planned for this year's Regatta. There will be 15 of the best swim clubs in the province taking part as well as entries from Alberta and north-western United States. Bruce feels his club will show well against this tough lineup.

"Swimmers in the club who should stand out in competition at the Regatta are Cheryl and Janice Ronsell, Jo-Ann Ritchie, Todd Edwards and Bill Gale," he said.

Bruce feels there is a great deal of potential in the Ogopogo Club and he hopes to bring the team up to standards set by the many former members of the club.

He puts a lot of faith in the ability of a coach to make the team good. He said his own coach at UBC, Jack Promfret, is probably one of the best coaches in Canada. He noted the UBC coach has taken team member Bill Mahoney and made him into a Canadian champion worthy of international competition.

Bruce sees his job as coach of the Ogopogo team as something similar. He believes to become a good competition swimmer you have to work and work hard.

"When working with young swimmers you cannot dampen their spirits. As a coach I try to remember that although work is mandatory for success, swimming must also be fun at all times," he said.

Summer swim clubs such as the Ogopogo have achieved a lot of recognition in Canadian swimming circles. This year a member of the Crescent Beach summer swim club, Bruce Roberts, will be going to Munich for the summer Olympics as a member of the Canadian team.

FACILITIES

Of course not all is rosy. The youthful coach of the Ogopogo club says the biggest hurdle most clubs encounter is lack of proper facilities.

"Here in Kelowna we are somewhat fortunate to have people like the Williamsons who are willing to help young swimmers with facilities but still we need an indoor pool so that swimmers with a potential for international swimming can get all the practise they need," he said.

Bruce is also thankful for the use of the Capri pool which lends a great deal to the instruction of the senior members of the team. Bruce is hoping for an exceptional season this year and if you want to see some possible future Olympic competitors in action be sure and catch the swimming events at this year's Regatta.

DIRECTOR OF ROYALTY

Pleasant, Challenging Job

By MRS. N. J. HILBORN

As Director of Royalty for the 1972 International Regatta Association, I have one of the most pleasant, yet challenging positions of any director.

Pleasant because it involves working with young people and challenging because each candidate has a different personality. As one can imagine, this can prove very interesting with 11 individual thoughts and ideas.

My duties as royalty director are very varied. My first job is to contact all service organizations in the community and invite them to sponsor a candidate of their choice for the forthcoming Lady of the Lake contest.

The next step is to select the judges. This is a very difficult task. We try to select judges who are not affiliated with any organization which has a candidate in the current contest.

In cases where we have had a judge who is a member of one of the service organizations, it has been because he is impartial and most qualified for the task ahead.

ANONYMOUS

The judges remain anonymous to the candidates and general public until the final speeches and judging the evening before the proclamation and ceremonies. Once the candidates have been selected by the organizations, the training program is then put into motion.

I usually start planning the next year's program immediately following the coronation.

MRS. N. J. HILBORN
... Royalty Director

Each year the training program will vary. By this, I mean new ideas are added but the basics still remain, such as emphasizing deportment, social graces, personal beauty care and the developing of each young lady's individual personality.

This year, talent was added to the program as an experiment. This proved very popular and next year we hope to make this an integral part of a candidate's qualifications.

I feel that everyone has talent of one kind or another, and it does not necessarily have to be in the arts. The speech training is controlled by the Kelowna Toastmasters Club. Their sessions are separate from the other training program. I have given them full control of their planning and speech training.

SELECTION

Another very important job is the selection of a candidate co-ordinator. The person selected must work hand-in-glove with the director of royalty on all phases of the training program. She must be able to communicate with candidates, give constructive criticism and offer advice when requested. She must have the respect and confidence of the candidates and must show no favoritism whatever.

I arrange all the candidates' public appearances, television, radio and press interviews, fashion shows, coffee and tea parties, just to mention a few.

Also, under my jurisdiction is the administration of activities for the reigning Lady of the Lake and her princess and chaperone.

This means all activities such as invitations, interviews, expenditures and itinerary must be directed to me before approval.

Last, but by no means least, responsibility for visiting royalty to each year's Regatta comes under my department, although I have a chairman to look after this area. We work very closely together so that I am aware of all details of community functions and social activities arranged.

This year, each of our Lady of the Lake candidates are hosting two out-of-town queens. During the past few years, as director of royalty, I have made many changes to update the contest, but never losing sight of the tradition of our Lady of the Lake contest.

A very important change this year was the age limit. In previous years, the age to enter the contest was between 17 to 22. This year, the age range was from 17 to 20 years.

The reason for the change was we felt that keeping the candidates in a compatible age group would present a more complete contest and rapport among candidates. Also, the Miss PNE contest has lowered its age group for contestants.

The well-being of young people in our community is very important to me and it, in some small way, in my capacity as director of royalty I am helping these young people to take their place in today's society, then I am happy.

Young people are great individuals. They keep you on your toes; make you feel and think young. But above all, I have learned that by listening and sharing their ideas, the majority of our young people of today are more adult than we give them credit for.

There is no one as proud as I am of "my girls."

Dick Started With Regatta In The Summer Of 1913

The man who is known as "Mr. Regatta" says the annual water show, being held this year for the 68th time, "puts Kelowna on the map."

R. F. Parkinson, former mayor of the Okanagan city, is a perennial director of the Regatta organization and remembers his own first introduction to the classic.

It was the summer of 1913, "before my dad went to war" and young Dick entered the boys' swimming and diving and four shell races. Later, in the 1920s as a teen-ager, he still competed and paddled war canoes.

This is how Regatta started in 1906, with boat races. And this was the year the Parkinson family moved to Kelowna from Fairview.

At the age of five, the former mayor, in sailor suit and wide-brimmed straw hat, attended his first Regatta with his parents.

The son of pioneers, "Mr. Regatta" came to the city in 1906, in 1917, became associated with Kelowna Creamery and in 1922 with Laurel Co-Op where he served for 42 years.

During this time, Regatta became international in flavor, largely through Mr. Parkinson's efforts and vision. During his youth, he became a King's scout and participated in lacrosse, baseball and basketball.

He is both charter and life member of the Kelowna and District Jaycees and has served on the executive of the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce. The former mayor is also a life member of the Kelowna Club.

During the Second World War, our distinguished story guest Regatta.

R. F. PARKINSON
... Mr. Regatta

served with the Canadian Army, and was British Columbia representative on the National Capital Commission for four years. His efforts helped make possible realization of Kelowna airport.

On the occasion of his retirement in 1970, his 25-year civic history with the city was lauded by Premier W. A. C. Bennett.

"His record of unopposed service as mayor is an evident tribute to, and recognition of, his dedicated and selfless service to his community."

That pretty well sums up the kind of man known affectionately and authoritatively as Mr. Regatta.

George Athans World Champ To 'Fly Kite'

Whenever the sport of water skiing is mentioned in the Kelowna area the name of George Athans Jr. automatically pops up.

The Kelowna skier is one of the world's top skiers and proved his skill by taking first in the over-all world water ski championships held in Spain last September.

The 20-year-old student of Sir George Williams University in Montreal comes from a family that is used to having success in water competitions. George's father, Dr. George Athans, is a former British Empire Games diving champion and had the diving tower in Kelowna city park's aquatic named after him.

George Jr. was also honored by the City of Kelowna when the Chamber of Commerce had a "George Athans" night last November. The skiing celebrity was given a banquet that was attended by his family, close friends and assorted guests including Vancouver ILA Herb Capozzi.

But along with George's success comes a very busy schedule of skiing, particularly during the summer months when he is called on to ski practically every weekend.

Athans' slate of events during August include the defending of his Canadian skiing title in Toronto on August 18, 19 and 20. Aside from being overall Canadian champion Athans holds records in trick and slalom skiing and jumping.

One of his most important stops in the skiing circle is the Western Hemisphere Championships in Montreal during the week of August 20-27. In this event George is expected to face some of the toughest competition the ski world has to offer.

Athans has been given the opportunity that all sports enthusiasts dream about at one time or another, an invitation to the Olympics. He has been invited to the Summer Olympics in Munich at the end of August but will not be competing for the usual Olympic medals.

The reason is water skiing is one of the demonstration sports to be introduced at this year's Olympics.

Every four years that Summer and Winter Olympics are held a new sport is introduced to the program of events.

The top performers in the particular sport are brought in to demonstrate the event and the impact it has on the Olympics and the fans determines whether or not it will become a fulltime Olympic event. Three skiers were selected to represent Canada and Athans was one of the three picked.

Although Athans has the opportunity to travel to various countries and is able to see different parts of Canada, he always takes time out of his busy schedule to attend the Kelowna Regatta.

At the Regatta this year he will be displaying one of the most thrilling exhibitions of kite flying one could witness. He will be using a special kite that was produced in Australia and is capable of flying at 300 ft. or more altitude.

... world top skier

A NATURAL
Although Athans has no been involved with kite flying as long as skiing he was found to be a natural at handling and maneuvering the heavy kite and one of a very small group in the world that is qualified to do so.

It is not known whether Athans will be putting on any trick skiing or jumping demonstrations during the Regatta but his spectacular performance with the kite should more than keep the spectators content.

Be sure you don't miss this exciting event as Kelowna's, and the world's, number one skier soars to remarkable heights.

AUTHOR JOINS YOUTH

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (CP) — Author W. O. Mitchell joined Ontario Youth Theatre's summer company for a week recently to work with the director and cast in rehearsals of his The Devil's Instrument. The company will present the play on a three-week tour of central and Western Ontario beginning in Peterborough Aug. 10.

Teen Town Is Sponsoring The Local Talent Show

It is often hard to comprehend a service club whose organization has run smoothly for 24 years and yet is made up entirely of teen-agers. The witness to the fact that it can happen is the Kelowna Teen Town which is sponsoring the local talent night at this year's Regatta.

The club began in Penticton in 1948 and then the main objective of the club was solely to provide entertainment for the youth of the community. The club has grown since that time, however, until now when it not only provides entertainment for the Okanagan Valley's young people but also is a charitable organization which endeavours to serve its community and those people less fortunate than themselves.

The Kelowna Teen Town is a fully chartered organization and is made up of, and run for, teens. The club remains under the watchful eyes of two adult co-ordinators, Ron Wilkinson and Barry Morson. Each of the individual Teen Towns in the Valley is part of two larger regions. The Teen Town clubs in the North Okanagan are a part of the North Okanagan Teens Association and the Teen Towns in the South of the Valley are part of the South Okanagan Teens Association.

Both of these organizations are parts of the British Columbia Teens Association. The clubs attend various functions on a collective scale which brings them together to discuss the policies and happenings within each individual organization. Four of these conventions are held every year.

At these conferences the teen town executive members discuss new fund and fund raising ideas as well as meeting and exchanging views with other teen-agers. Although the Penticton Teen Town folded in 1970 there is still 14 active Teen Town organizations operating in the province. The clubs operate from as far south as Osoyoos and as far north as Williams Lake.

CRY WOLF!

NORTH BAY, Ont. (CP) — Oldest of Ontario's more than 100 provincial parks, Algonquin Park is noted for its large timber wolf population and officials have amassed excellent recordings of their howls and cries. Visitors are taken out for "howling nights," when the recordings are played and are usually answered by yelps of unaged, untamed and unafraid wolves for a spine-tingling adventure.

Each Teen Town has its own executive and council. The Kelowna Teen Town at present has six executive members headed by Mayor Margot Thomson and Deputy Mayor Pat Hartwick. The secretary of the organization is Jerry de Pyffor and the treasurer is Lisa Lloyd. The two other executive members are public relations officer Lawrence Broder and correspondence secretary Debbie Thomas.

On the council assisting the executive members are 16 Teen Town members. A busy year is ahead for the Kelowna Teen Town group with many new projects being considered and many old projects given new dimensions. They started out with the Mayor's installation banquet on June 9 where the executive and council members' nominations were held.

The local Teen Town Club will hold a bicycle marathon this year, the proceeds of which will go to the Vancouver Children's Hospital. At present the group has just started work on the Teen Town float appearing in the Regatta parade.

Plans are also under way for a giant beach party sponsored by the club for the swimming competitors at this year's Regatta. The largest program of course is the Talent Show this year which is open to anyone who wants to enter. The club will stage the acts at the waterfront entertainment centre and will help judge the winners of the show. The club all season has been putting on dances and concerts in co-operation with the Regatta Association and one such event was the very successful Stampeder's concert held at Kelowna's Memorial Arena.

Certainly not to be omitted are Teen Town's annual Regatta dances, which according to the executive are getting bigger and better every year.

This year there are two great bands both on Friday and Saturday nights of the Regatta. The headliner is Merrilee Rush. She will be backed by a group called The Turnabouts, and they will be performing at the Memorial Arena on Friday night. Merrilee's only recently returned from a national tour which to say the least proved successful. The versatile songstress has won Grammy nominations two years run.

DON'T LIKE CANS
Only one per cent of beer purchased by Bavarians in 1971 was in the form of canned beer.

and her hit single, Angel of the Morning, sold over one million copies.

On Saturday night the headline group will be J. C. Kinsey, without a doubt one of the finest blues performers on the west coast.

Teen Town's fall schedule will include participation in the SOTA conference, selection of Miss Teen Town, who will act under the guidance of the present Miss Teen Town, Jackie Muir, and her princess, Debbie Thomas.

The crowning of Miss Teen Town will take place on Dec. 30 at a night of Snowflake Fantasy. Of course winter and Kelowna go hand in hand with the annual Schmoozy Game involving the media and the RCMP. Teen Town will be ready to lend a hand in the annual affair.

It may not sound like much activity for one season but as the Teen Towners say you must consider that in between these special events the club holds regular dances, bake sales and charity work such as the March of Dimes project. The club enjoys themselves as well as working hard with their Halloween Party, and various other group parties in which just being a Teen Town member is gratifying.

FLOATING STAGE

The night show at Regatta is held on the water with a special floating stage as the setting. The viewing stand was erected by city work crews to accommodate some of the estimated 60,000 people expected at this year's Kelowna International Regatta.

WILLY DIVING DRY

Willy Keo, representing Australia at this year's Regatta night show, will be performing his now famous comedy dry diving act. Willy is fresh off a 40-week tour of the United States and Mexico where he was performing with the Holiday On Ice Group. His appearance at the Regatta will add to the International flavor of the night show. When not doing his act Willy puts in time as a professional soccer player and radio announcer in his homeland, Australia.

'Dry Diving Act' Is Sidesplitter For The Regatta

Willy Keo, representing the land where water, beautiful female swimmers, and outstanding divers are common place. The Land Down Under, Australia.

Willy is fresh off a 40-week tour of the United States and Mexico, performing his "waterless" diving act with Holiday on Ice International.

Adapting his comedy DRY diving to working on an ice surface was no major problem for Willy, who has worked on smooth and rough stages, in the dust of rodeo rings, and the mud of grandstand tracks.

Greatest challenge Willy says, was his finish when he comes down from the diving board sprawling to the ice barefooted.

When the weather was warm and the ice was set on the surface, he had no trouble in being funny because he was never sure how he was going to land when his warm barefeet met up with the slippery ice. Falling only made it funnier.

Especially in the two months in Mexico where all performances were in the bull rings of Monterrey, San Luis Potosi, Guadalajara, Chihuahua and Juarez ... and many times in temperatures of 100 to 112 degrees. It was a miracle our ice engineers could give us ice for each and every performance ... which they succeeded in doing.

Off ice, Willy has put in time as a professional soccer star; as an editor of his own nationally sold newspaper; as a radio announcer; a 5-year army vet of World War Two vintage ... (he was in 10 months before Pearl Harbor) and for the past 20 years he has performed his unique diving comedy with and without water at almost every conceivable type of event, indoors and outdoors.

EARLY LIGHTS

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP) — Christmas street lights will be turned on a month earlier than usual this year, despite the objections of Ald. Lee Gisl. City council has approved a Chamber of Commerce request that the lights be turned on Nov. 15 instead of Dec. 15. Ald. Gisl said turning the lights on "six weeks before Christmas is not in the real spirit of Christmas ... it's commercialism."

STUDY TREE GROWTH

SASKATOON (CP) — The University of Saskatchewan and the federal and provincial governments are co-operating in an experiment to see whether fertilization can increase yields and shorten the time trees take to reach the point of maximum returns from lumber and pulp. W. K. Janzen of the Saskatchewan Institute of Pedology is directing the experiment.

THE SEOUL KITTENS

Salute To Pacific Is Regatta Theme

Salute to the Pacific, this year's Regatta theme, will be show-cased in a sparkling array of night show entertainment produced by Robert Di Paolo of K.B.D. Enterprises, Calgary.

Working with a "fantastic" line-up of both amateur and professional acts, the Regatta evening fare promises to be a "winner" say Regatta association officials.

Footlight dazzlers during the first four nights include the 'Seoul Kittens', billed as one of the finest musical aggregations ever to come from the Westernized section of the Orient, South Korea and specifically, the city of Seoul.

Headed by leader, Lisa Oak, who is featured on outstanding vocals and bass guitar, the group set out on an international tour several years ago. After bookings in the United States, they decided to make their home in Toronto.

This year, the Kittens extensively toured Canada, appearing at the Severin in Toronto, numerous hotels in Montreal and night clubs and cabarets in larger Western Canadian cities.

The group combine some of the most popular standards with some of the contemporary rock numbers of today, blending arrangements with outstanding vocal and instrumental ability. They have a multi-talented ability for switching from guitar to drums to organ, throwing in whistles and comedy rivalled by few similar groups.

Ruby Kwak, most versatile member, plays drums, rhythm guitar, organ, tambourine and congo drums.

The association is also proud to welcome back professional rhythmic and synchronized swimming instructor, Joan McKinley Nagel, who produced many memorable water numbers for Regatta in the past.

She was instrumental in obtaining the talents of the Santa Clara Aquamaids Synchronized Swimming Club Inc., touted as one of the top synchronized clubs in North America. The Santa Clara, Calif., team under coach Kay Vilen, comprises eight swimmers headed by Oslo, Norway's Norwegian synchronized swimming champion, Nina Aas. Other team members include Ann Kristin Thorvaldsen, Ann Norlund and Ann Karl Storchand. The girls are coming to Canada to improve international competition in synchronized swimming and knowledge, with hopes of seeing it become part of the Olympic games.

Regatta music this year will be provided by the Golden Triangle Concert Band, consisting of some 30 professional musicians.

Expect 60,000 To Attend The Regatta

Regatta manager Glen Carleton said he expects about 60,000 people to attend this year's Kelowna International Regatta, August 2 to 6.

He said there were about 50,000 persons in attendance last year when, for the first time, turnstiles were placed at the gates for an accurate measure attendance.

They will be used again this year.

Mr. Carleton holds the same hope he had last year of making professionalism and profit the mark of the Regatta.

Although there are about 150 volunteers helping out with time and materials, more are needed, Mr. Carleton said. Those interested, are asked to go to regatta headquarters on Ellis Street.

The regatta has expanded slightly, Mr. Carleton said, with entertainment provided during winter this year. He said more expansion ideas were being considered.

Mr. Carleton hopes to establish a permanent site for the Regatta and said a committee is working on the idea and will make a presentation to city council advisory committee September 13.

He said the situation of poor weather conditions could still damage the regatta. He said rainy weather could "wipe out" the event.

IN RECORD

The winner of the Regatta's water walkathon will be entitled to a place of his own in the next edition of the Guinness World Book of Records as the course is shorter this year for the first time and it is believed to be the only one of its type in the world.

SKI RACE

A 100 mile ski race is planned for the Regatta this year and hopefully it will become an annual event. The race will surely test the endurance of the many enthusiastic water-skiers from all around the Valley.

WINNERS

The Regatta Parade will include 23 visitors of royal background. The 23 girls in the parade are all winners of various pageants throughout this province and one or two from Alberta.

More Than 30 Boats Expected To Enter Hydroplane Races

Comparing power boats to droplines, someone once said, like comparing a six-cylinder automobile to a Indianapolis 500. Well you will get an opportunity to compare them yourself at this year's International Regatta as the craft of the snarling roar set out to break water speed records.

Mike Bate, co-ordinator of the Regatta hydroplane races said he is expecting 30 to 40 of the high horsepower machines race this year.

There will be six classes of droplines in competition ranging from the 145-cubic inch displacement engine to the ultra high 5-litre inboard.

Classes in the 150, 225, and 300-cubic inch displacement engine, as well as the cracker class will be running for prize money.

"These boats are the same design as the world championship droplines that are used to set world speed records," Mr. Bate said.

He pointed out that Regatta races are sanctioned by the American Power Boat Association and thus must comply with stringent safety requirements set out by the association. Such rules insist an ambulance and doctor be available at the pit area at all times during the running of the races.

Mr. Bate said he hoped to have several local entrants participating in the races, particularly Richard Craig of Kelowna, who owns a hydroplane. He said there are also two dropline racers in Penticton whom he hoped would compete in the Regatta races. He already has confirmation on two cab-over-engine 150-cubic inch boats coming and also two 225-cubic inch boats which are affectionately called "hot dogs".

If you are in the market for some surefire excitement don't miss the Regatta hydroplane races, which will be running on Saturday and Sunday of Regatta between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m.
